

House Will Act On Billion Dollar Tax Program Next Week

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP)—The new $1,127,000,000 tax bill, revised materially from President Roosevelt's suggestions, was ready today for house action next week. Democratic members of the house ways and means committee voted at a secret meeting last night to sponsor it as drafted by a sub-committee.

Inasmuch as there are 18 Democrats and only 7 Republicans on the committee, Democratic approval was tantamount to final full committee endorsement, expected formally Monday.

Democratic members admitted $345,000,000 short of the revenue the bill may fall short of the president's request for $792,000,000 annually for three years and $620,000,000 a year thereafter to finance farm relief and bonus costs.

The bill will not include new processing taxes spread over about 30 commodities, as recommended by Mr. Roosevelt, but otherwise leaves to his main proposals for balancing the ordinary budget.

It calls for tax reform in levying a tax on undistributed corporate profits, provides for a "windfall" levy to collect unpaid processing taxes and temporarily continues present corporate excess profits and capital stock levies.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill, D., Wash., of the tax sub-committee, said "we are not working to the definite end of balancing the budget but we are hopeful that the revenue will approximately balance the ordinary budget."

The fact that the bill, in reply to questions submitted by full committee chairman Robert L. Doughton, was unable to clarify the dispute over yield, left unanswered the question of how close the measure in its present form meets White House revenue demands.

The measure would fall at least

SUIT NARROWS TO AUDITOR IN MANDAMUS CASE

THE COMBINED mandamus action against County Auditor W. T. Lambert and money judgment suit against county supervisors, brought by James S. Farquhar, Huntington Beach publisher, to collect a $328 bill for advertising the last county flood bonds, narrowed to the mandamus proceeding alone late yesterday, after Superior Judge G. K. Scovel held that the two causes of action were misjoined in one complaint.

After the court had sustained demurrers to the misjoinder, filed by counsel for both Lambert and the supervisors, attorneys for Farquhar decided to amend the complaint to omit the supervisors as defendants and to proceed with the mandamus petition against Lambert.

This course was suggested by Lambert's attorney, City Attorney L. W. Blodgett, of Santa Ana, who appeared as special counsel for the auditor, the supervisors being represented by District Attorney W. F. Menton and Deputy Eugene Walker. Blodgett and Lambert expressed their willingness to have the question of the legality of the flood campaign bills established without further delay. The mandamus matter therefore was tentatively set for hearing by Judge Scovel next Friday.

Attorneys Thomas Kuchel and Leo J. Fris, representing Farquhar, stated in court yesterday that if the flood campaign bills, aggregating $8349.35, according to the auditor, are held by the court to be illegal, and the auditor is not directed to allow them, then Farquhar will proceed to sue the county supervisors personally on

WESTERN JUNKET ASSURED SOLONS

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP)—A congressional group will tour Atlantic and Pacific coasts soon, it was learned today, to inspect proposed air bases for strengthening of national defense.

A house appropriations subcommittee plans to make the junket by airplane as soon as Rep. Glover Cary, D., Ky., a member, recovers from an attack of pneumonia.

The navy has recommended, it was learned on high authority, the establishment of a powerful air base at Pensacola, Fla., to strengthen defense of the Panama canal and Caribbean sea areas.

The committee's contemplated west coast tour would include San Diego and Alameda, Calif.; Seattle, Wash., and Tongue Point, Ore., with a view of recommending increasing their aerial defense.

Warren, O., April 18.—(UP)—Assistant Fire Chief George Mock was fighting a fire on the second floor. Blinded by smoke, he opened a door to step out on a porch. The porch wasn't there.

Elaine Is Lured Back To Filmland

HOLLYWOOD, April 18.—(UP)—Elaine Barrie, protegee of the romantic "Caliban," John Barrymore, was back in Hollywood today—lured by an offer of a screen contract procured for her by the profiled actor.

The sprightly Miss Barrie, who terms herself the "Ariel" of Barrymore's life, slipped into the screen colony quietly yesterday with her mother, Mrs. Edna Jacobs.

The 19-year-old girl and her mother left here March 27, after a reported quarrel with her "Caliban."

"I'm here to stay this time," she bubbled. "Mama and I are moving here for good. My dreams are coming true. I'm going to be a star in pictures."

GET FEDERAL CASH FOR SECURITY FUND

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP)—The social security board today sent federal checks totaling $82,355 to California to finance unemployment compensation for 1,587,400 persons.

The funds will be for administration of the unemployment compensation law of the state, which was approved by the social security board on January 14.

Approval of the law brought to approximately 6,000,000 the number of workers affected by unemployment compensation in eight states and the District of Columbia. Other states whose laws have been approved are Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Oregon, Alabama, Washington, and Wisconsin.

CHILD FILM STAR'S MOTHER FILES SUIT

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Lillian Mae Bartholomew today filed a motion in superior court to set aside the guardianship of her son, Freddie, boy film star, granted his aunt, Mylicent Mary Bartholomew, last October.

The mother, who came to Hollywood from London, alleged in the motion that the aunt misrepresented her intentions in bringing Freddie to the United States for a film career.

Mrs. Bartholomew also charged she had been kept apart from her son by her sister-in-law, that Freddie's address has been withheld from her, and that her negotiations for a reunion with the boy have failed.

Home Burned But Ants Linger On

COALINGA, Cal., April 18.—(UP)—A. R. Brown had ants. He traced them to a sandhill near his home, poured gasoline along their trail and lighted it.

Brown, personally, was relieved of the nests today, but they were still round to annoy the carpenters rebuilding his home.

TRIO HELD IN KIDNAPING

Sinclair Seeks Townsend-Epic Combine

COALITION IS PROPOSED TO END TROUBLE

Bolting L. A. Townsends
Makes Peace With National Officers

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(UP)—L. A. Sinclair, in the current issue of his Epic News, today invited followers to "think about" a proposal that followers of the Townsend old age movement unite with the Epic Democrats.

"There is no reason why under the Epic plan the old people should not receive a pension of $200 a month," Sinclair said in a signed article.

Admitting that Dr. F. E. Townsend personally has shunned his movement, Sinclair wrote:

Sees Working Basis

"I find myself, naturally, thinking about the possibility of working out a combination with Dr. Townsend. . . . It seems to me that there is a working basis for an Epic-Townsend combination."

Epic followers reported that Sinclair lashed his ratification of the Townsend movement on the proposal of Sheridan Downey to finance the pensions by floating a $10,000,000 bond issue.

Sinclair's economic views have aligned against the Townsend movement because of his belief that a transactions tax or any form of sales tax hit the oppressed the hardest.

Downey was Sinclair's running-mate when he campaigned for governor and is a close friend of the noted writer. As personal counsel for Dr. Townsend, observers commented, he is in a position to swing any possible alliance between the two movements.

The local Townsend front was peaceful today following a settlement of differences between George C. Hixley, holding president of the local Townsend club, No. 33, and national officers.

Hixley, who had threatened to form his own pension movement, agreed to remain in the Townsend ranks following a conference with Frank Arbuckle, western regional director of the Townsend movement.

A congressional committee continued its check of Townsend records but indicated a public hearing.

AGENTS HUNT STOLEN BONDS IN CALIFORNIA

DEMOS LEAD BY HALF MILLION IN CALIFORNIA

Final Registration Shows
2,964,336 Voters on State Books

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 18.—(UP)—Official registration figures for the May 5 California primary show Democrats half a million ahead of Republicans for the first time in the state's history.

The final registration compiled today by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan gave a total of 2,964,336 voters, classified as follows:

Democratic, 1,887,288.
Republican, 1,167,780.
Prohibition, 7,077.
Socialist, 4,157.
Progressive, 1,782.
Communist, 677.
Commonwealth, 150.
Miscellaneous, 718.
Declined to state, 96,707.

The total fell nearly 200,000 under the record of 3,140,114 established for the November, 1934, election, but all registrations this year were new—started January 1.

In the space of four years, Democratic strength leaped from 847,264 to the record high number classified in that party for this year's presidential primary. Republican registration slumped, however, from the 1,394,850 recorded in May, 1932.

Only 10 of the 58 counties remained in Republican ranks. They were Alpine, Del Norte, Humboldt, Lake, Mendocino, Napa, Riverside, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Sonoma. Four years ago, 55 counties were Republican; three Democratic. The balance of power swung Democratic in 1934 for the first time, the figures that year—for the November fight between Frank E. Merriam and Upton Sinclair—showing 1,555,705 Democratic and 1,430,198 Republican. Twenty-five counties remained in the G.O.P. camp for that contest, 15 switching to the Bourbon side since the new registration was started.

Registration in minor parties slumped generally. The Communist party dropped from 1,322 in 1934 to 677. Commonwealth from 3,046 to 150. Socialist from 12,335 to 6,157. Prohibition from 9,131 to 7,077. Progressive from 4,279 to 1,782.

Democratic registration gained 131,583 since the 1934 gubernatorial race despite the starting of new signatures which eliminated thousands of persons long since dead. Republican supporters fell away by 256,418 persons in the same period.

Effie Uses Head To Rescue Elmer

SEATTLE, April 18.—(UP)—Elmer, 11-year-old Effie Fraser's pet white rabbit escaped from his pen and fell down a hot air shaft. He wasn't hurt, but was imprisoned in a space too small to permit his rescue.

Effie put a head of lettuce in a paper shopping bag, tied a string on the bag and lowered it into the shaft. When Elmer entered to eat the lettuce, Effie hauled him to safety.

DUCE JUBILANT WITH TRIUMPH IN HIS GRASP

ROME, April 18.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini, jubilant, awaited confidently today what he expects to be the greatest triumph of his dramatic career.

He visualized the collapse of Ethiopia, the abdication of Emperor Haile Selassie, the virtual annexation of a country nearly three times as big as Italy, the humiliation of Great Britain and the disastrous defeat of a league of nations he has always hated.

He was understood to have sent to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief in East Africa, detailed instructions on his terms for an armistice and the abdication of the emperor.

Unofficial but reliable sources said he had received assurances that the Ethiopian crown prince, Asfawossen, was ready to negotiate peace unconditionally and to assume the nominal sovereignty of the country as a puppet emperor under Italian domination.

It was even insisted that the emperor himself was ready to abdicate in Wosen's favor, and had communicated this offer to Italian representatives.

But regardless of immediate developments, Mussolini saw himself as in the final stage of winning a victory greater than even he had dreamed.

At a cost of some $553,000,000, according to conservative estimate, and some thousands of Italian lives, he saw Italy emerging not only as a major colonial power but as a greater force in Europe than it ever had been.

He was beginning, it was understood, to lay his plans for Europe, to restore Italy's position as the protector of Austria and to take his full place as a chief-tain in discussions for a general European scheme of political consolidation.

Furthermore, he forebore the rise of Italy as the great Mediterranean power in a vital section of the British line of communication to the Near East, India and Australia.

S. F. PORT STRIKE PEACE IS SOUGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—(UP)—Activity on the San Francisco waterfront was practically at a standstill today as two peace meetings were scheduled to be held before nightfall to seek a basis for settlement of the dispute between employers and longshoremen.

One meeting was a three-sided conference, with representatives of the waterfront employers' association conferring with W. J. Lewis and W. T. Morris, president and secretary of the Pacific coast district, International Longshoremen's association, and Charles Connors, Roy Goulet and William Marlowe, members of the labor relations committee of the San Francisco local of the I. L. A.

The second was a preliminary conference of seven union officials, appointed at a meeting of the San Francisco labor council last night and empowered to aid in bringing about a settlement on terms demanded by the longshoremen.

Seek Abolition Of Anti-Radical Laws

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—(UP)—A campaign to remove California's anti-radical laws from the state statutes was to be discussed at a statewide convention of the California conference for repeal of the criminal syndicalism act here tomorrow.

Committeemen in charge of arrangements said 400 delegates would attend the meeting. Assemblyman Paul A. Ritchie of San Diego was listed as the principal speaker.

TURKISH-BRITISH ALLIANCE LOOMS

LONDON, April 18.—(UP)—Turkey's promise that it would support Great Britain in event of an attack by Italy was expected today to spark certain that there would be no real opposition to its recognition of the Dardanelles in emulation of Germany's remilitarization of the Rhineland.

Officials were understood to have been astonished at news that Turkish soldiers had occupied the straits. The Turkish note of April 11, notifying Lausanne treaty powers of the country's intention of reclaiming full sovereignty over the straits—including their defense—clearly indicated readiness to negotiate before acting.

Increasing tension in the Mediterranean was believed the factor which caused the change in President Mustafa Kemal Ataturk's plans to seek consent of the treaty signatories.

STRIKES INVOLVE THREE INDUSTRIES

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(UP)—Strikes troubled three Southern California industries today. Union leaders said 1300 workers were on strike today and 5000 would be out by Monday.

Three hundred Mexican field workers walked off the job yesterday and Mrs. Lillian Monroe, strike leader, predicted the walk-out will be county-wide by Monday, with 400 dropping their work.

A ship carpenters' strike at the Wilmington Boat Building company, and seven other harbor plants was reported scheduled for Monday, affecting 250 men.

One thousand cabinet workers are on strike with arbitration negotiations under way.

Higher wages or collective bargaining are the issues in all three disputes.

LATE FLASHES

NEW YORK, April 18.—(UP)—District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn today sent out a general alarm for the arrest of two men who, he said, will be charged with kidnapping Paul H. Wendel, disbarred Trenton, N. J., lawyer who allegedly was tortured into making a confession that he abducted the Lindbergh baby.

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(UP)—A mediation meeting under the Mexican consular sponsorship was scheduled for late today in an effort to avert a threatened walkout of 4000 field workers throughout Los Angeles county.

AUBURN, Cal., April 18.—(UP)—Earl (Bud) Kimball, who was dubbed the "Werewolf of Fuldia Flat," will be hanged at Folsom prison May 22 for the slaying of James C. Kennett, retired Chicago contractor.

Italian Marchioness Gives
Top That Disrupts International Ring

NEW YORK, April 18.—(UP)—Guarded revelations by federal agents and police indicated today that the beautiful Marchioness Pia Ferrari Davico of Italy was the instrument through which an international ring of bond thieves had been disrupted and $750,000 worth of stolen securities recovered.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine revealed that part of the missing loot had been traced to California and that Detective Lieut. Grover C. Brown is on the west coast now.

The marchioness, 34, is in hiding in New York in fear of gang vengeance, police said.

$1,296,000 Still Missing

She still is cooperating with detectives seeking $1,296,000 worth of securities stolen from Wall street banking houses in robberies that baffled investigators more than a year.

Police said her testimony will be most important in the prosecution of two men held for United States authorities in Paris and a third man, David Frank, who was arrested in New York.

Frank and the men held in Paris were accused of complicity in a theft of $1,456,000 worth of bonds belonging to the Bank of Manhattan company. Because J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal justice department's bureau of investigation, linked that crime with another theft of $590,000 in treasury notes in 1934, it was assumed the marchioness also would testify against eight men arrested in connection with it.

A federal agent and a New York detective engaged in a race across the Atlantic today for possession of the Paris prisoners. Hoover said one of his men left for Europe yesterday. Detective Henry P. Oswald sails on the S. S. LaFayette for Havre this morning.

Oswald had an inside track, bar-

ARREST ROUMANIAN MURDER PLOTTERS

VIENNA, April 18.—(UP)—Several members of the suppressed "iron guard" have been arrested for alleged implication in an assassination plot directed against Magda Lupescu, favorite of King Carol of Rumania, and officials of the present regime, reports from reliable sources in Bucharest said today.

Details of the reported plot said iron guard students had formed 11 terrorist groups, each composed of five members. Each group was said to have been assigned to the duty of killing one official.

Intended victims of the alleged plot, besides Mme. Lupescu, included the chief of police of Bucharest, one of his colleagues, a cabinet minister, a former minister of the interior, two members of parliament and a university professor.

GHOST'S FACE PLENTY RED AS 'WIDOW' TAKES CLOTHES HOME

BAKERSFIELD, April 18.—(UP)—Ghosts wear white robes, so it developed after friends had consoled his wife that Grant Barnes, 35, didn't drown at all.

Shocked motorists were the first to learn of his escape from the Kern river, then Barnes, thankful though blushing, confirmed the fact.

Barnes was swimming in the river and his wife and some friends were looking on when he suddenly disappeared beneath the surface.

At last, Mrs. Barnes, believing herself a widow, gathered up his clothes and, with the friends, reported to the sheriff that her husband had drowned.

Larkin Is New Chief At Folsom

FOLSOM, Cal., April 18.—(UP)—Clarence Larkin, captain of the Folsom prison yard, was appointed warden of Folsom today by the state prison board to succeed Court Smith, recently appointed warden at San Quentin replacing James B. Holohan, resigned.

The appointment, made at a meeting of the prison board here, ended a long deadlock among board members who were reportedly split in favor of at least three different candidates.

Selection of Larkin also ended a controversy over charges that Governor Merriam was allegedly playing politics in the matter.

Larkin won the appointment over such candidates as Clyde Plummer, Los Angeles, and Fred Esola, former United States marshal, San Francisco.

UNCLE SAM TO SPEND CASH ON EXCESS CITRUS

A NEW federal program designed to bolster the orange market through purchase of lower grade surplus citrus fruits for distribution to families on relief rolls, was under way here today and is expected to be of considerable assistance to orange county growers in marketing the crop.

C. R. Cobb, federal surplus commodities representative for Southern California, was in Santa Ana yesterday conferring with Director Terrence H. Halloran on the program. Cobb said that the government will spend as much as $2,000,000 on citrus fruits in California and Arizona, a considerable part of which is expected to be expended in Orange county because of the large citrus acreage here.

The program came to light yesterday when the SRA here received 600 boxes of oranges for distribution to needy families on the SRA and county relief rolls.

These oranges will be distributed along with canned beef, dried rolled oats, dried peas and dried beans as part of the federal surplus program.

The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation is in charge of the program; the same organization that has charge of surplus control in other branches of agriculture, according to Director Halloran. This is the first time the government has purchased citrus fruit.

Paul Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, told The Register today that his organization already has sold the government 18 cars of fruit at market prices. The fruit is low grade, he said, selling so far at from 75 cents to $1 a box. He said the program is expected to be of considerable help to growers by bolstering the market. Only loose fruit has been sold so far. Orange county will get its share of this government business, he said.

Strike At 3 Points

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau, announced that federal agents, striking simultaneously at three widely-separated points, arrested:

Charles J. Fitzgerald, in Los Angeles.

Jack Pfeiffer, in St. Paul.

Edward C. Bartholomew, postmaster at Bensenville, Ill.

Karpis, Enemy No. 1, Still Sought as Member of Abduction Gang

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(UP)—Federal agents today lifted the curtain of mystery from the kidnaping three years ago of William A. Hamm Jr., with announcement that three alleged abductors had been arrested, three are in prison, two are dead and one—the notorious Alvin Karpis—is still at large.

The $100,000 kidnaping of Hamm, wealthy St. Paul brewer, was one of the few "unsolved" cases on the books of the federal bureau of investigation, which has long waged a search for Karpis as public enemy No. 1.

Strike At 3 Points

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the federal bureau, announced that federal agents, striking simultaneously at three widely-separated points, arrested:

Charles J. Fitzgerald, in Los Angeles.

Jack Pfeiffer, in St. Paul.

Edward C. Bartholomew, postmaster at Bensenville, Ill.

Hoover, calling newspapermen unexpectedly to his office for an early morning announcement of solution of the case, said in addition to the men arrested yesterday, the following were involved in the abduction:

Arthur (Doc) Barker, now in Alcatraz prison; Elmer Farmer, now in Leavenworth penitentiary; Bryan Bolton, now in jail in St. Paul; Fred C. Goetz, known as "Shotgun Ziegler," now dead; Fred Barker, brother of Arthur, now dead, and Alvin Karpis, public enemy No. 1, at large.

The Hamm kidnaping case was one of the most sensational in a series of abductions dating from the Lindbergh crime and drawing the federal agents into a nationwide drive to stamp out the racket.

Karpis Shoots Way Out

Karpis once escaped the agents by a hairs-breadth when he shot his way out of an Atlantic City hotel.

Later, agents arrested "Doc" Barker and held him in Chicago and later closed in on Fred Barker in Florida.

TUOHY GANGSTER SENT TO PRISON

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—(UP)—Final chapter in Sacramento's sensational $234,000 post office robbery five years ago was written in U. S. court today with sentencing of William P. Barry, 36, member of the notorious Tuohy gang, to a term of 31 months in federal prison.

Barry pleaded guilty to a robbery charge. His trial had been held up for nearly three years while federal agents rounded up other participants in the crime. Barry's testimony resulted in conviction of four other members of the gang.

his claim. The supervisors were said to have authorized the campaign expenditures, which Auditor Lambert holds were "propaganda and argument" in favor of the bonds, and therefore an unlawful expenditure of public funds.

Lambert's position, as shown in his formal answer filed by Attorney Blodgett yesterday, is that the statute limits such expenditures to pamphlet form, and placed in pamphlet form, to be distributed only to such electors as apply for it.

Newspaper advertising, campaign headquarters rental, furniture rental and pay of campaign workers do not come within the purview of the statute, particularly since they "were intended to influence the voters," according to the auditor.

The supervisors have approved the claims, but the auditor refuses to allow them. The supervisors' position is that the various advertising material was merely informative, and did not urge a vote either way on the bonds. The bond issue was defeated at the polls last October.

Lambert retained special counsel on the theory that since the supervisors have authorized the expenditures and approved the claims, it would not be consistent for their attorney, Menton, to also defend Lambert. It has not yet been determined whether services of special counsel will be a legal charge against the county.

Attorney Kuchel, for Farquhar, made known the plaintiff's intended course yesterday while replying to the defense demurrers. "It is our contention," he said, "that if the auditor was justified in refusing to allow this claim, then the supervisors are personally liable."

Lambert, in his answer, took the position that if he should allow an illegal claim against the county he would be personally liable for the amount of such claim.

Urge Hitler To End Dictatorship

BEVDLEY, WORCESTERSHIRE, England, April 18.—(UP)—Britain's prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, today hailed Adolf Hitler of Germany as the man who holds the peace of Europe and called upon him to end the Nazi "dictatorship" in Germany as a step towards European good will.

In an important speech before his constituency here, the prime minister called for a campaign to restore the collective security of Europe, pledged Italy that Britain did not seek its "defeat and humiliation" as a result of the Ethiopian war and admitted the failure of the League of Nations' efforts to halt that conflict.

Boulder Spillways Get 'Workout'

Not a tiny model, but the real, massive Boulder Dam, with great torrents gushing through its spillways for the first time, is pictured in this striking view, taken from a plane high above the earth. SINCLAIR ASKS BANK SUES TO TOWNSEND AND LEARN RIGHTS EPIC COALITION AS TRUSTEE

When a man bites a dog, that's news, they say. But when a dog bites a bank, that is news.

It almost happened over near Placentia the other day, when the First National Bank of Fullerton went to inspect the Mary A. Tombs ranch, held in trust by the bank for the Tombs heirs, according to a superior court complaint filed today by the bank against the heirs, who maintain dangerous dogs at the ranch, it is claimed.

Nobody appeared to call off the dogs when the bank approached, so the bank discreetly retired.

The suit filed complaint of asserted actions of Mrs. Bertha Brooks Ackerman, principal beneficiary under the trust, and her husband, Arthur O. Ackerman.

The Ackermans, it is alleged, claim and exercise the right to occupy the 40-acre ranch, manage and operate it without respect for the wishes of the bank, hire and fire employees, and charge everything up to the trust estate.

The trust was established with the bank by the late Mary Tombs, who died February 29, 1932. Mrs. Ackerman, a daughter, receives three-fourths of the trust benefits, the other fourth going to another daughter, Annette Rachel Tombs.

The trust includes the 40-acre home grove on Placentia drive, a mile north of Placentia; a 10-acre grove one mile north of the home place; two buildings in Los Angeles; and stocks, bonds and cash amounting to $18,251.41.

Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman live on the home place and pay $40 per month to the trust estate. The bank disputes their right to occupancy, as well as their exercise of management. The Ackermans dug up and burned 2 1/2 acres of navel orange trees, and replaced them with valencias, charging the bill to the trust estate, the bank asserts.

The Ackermans also propose to withdraw their crop from the Placentia Orange Growers association, which has handled it many years, and market through the Villa Park Orchards association, claiming they will receive more money from the latter association. The bank doubts this, and feels it would be best not to change.

The court is asked to declare the bank's rights as trustee under the trust agreement.

Robertson was given first aid and brought to Santa Ana Valley hospital by Dr. B. B. Mason of Laguna Beach. He was still in a semiconscious condition, injuries also including severe concussion and hip lacerations. Door handles on one side of the Prenter car were torn off by the impact as Robertson apparently walked into the side of the vehicle. X-ray were taken this afternoon to determine extent of Robertson's injuries.

GENEVA, April 18.—(UP)—The League of Nations' conciliation committee of 13, which for months tried to bring peace between Italy and Ethiopia, formally adopted a report today admitting its mediatory efforts have failed—a diplomatic defeat due in part to Italy's demands that it be allowed to keep the Ethiopian territory it has conquered.

The formal report did not place the blame on either Italy or Ethiopia but, significantly, it did for the first time reveal that among the Italian conditions for peace was the ultimatum that she retain the African land her soldiers have won by arms.

TRIO NABBED BY G-MEN IN KIDNAP CASE

the outlaws who were hiding out in an isolated house, Fred Barker and his mother, known to gangsters as "Ma" Barker, were killed. The agents said they found a smoking machine gun in the dead woman's hands when they finally rushed the house.

Hamm was abducted shortly after noon on June 15, 1933, just as he left his office for luncheon.

He was taken to the Bensenville hideout, held there until June 19, and then released at a point near Wyoming, Minn., after an intermediary had made the ransom payments.

Dunn was instructed to make up the $100,000 ransom money in denominations of $5, $10, and $20 bills, and additional instructions were given for delivery of the money.

On June 16, Dunn received a telephone call at 1:30 a. m., warning him against telling police of the telephonic communications.

Dunn shortly thereafter received detailed instructions for delivery of the money, together with a warning that if instructions were not followed out the ransom would be increased to $150,000.

Package is Dropped

Eventually, after a second and third ransom notes were received by Dunn, Dunn delivered the money by dropping the package on Highway No. 61 near St. Paul.

"The investigation was continued by special agents of the bureau," Hoover's formal statement continued, "and it has now been definitely ascertained that the kidnapping was perpetrated by Alvin Karpis, Arthur R. Barker, Fred Barker, Fred Goetz, more commonly called 'Shotgun Ziegler' (now deceased); Charles J. Fitzgerald and William Bryan Bolton.

"Investigation has further disclosed that Mr. Hamm was held at the home of Edward C. Bartholomew . . . at the present time postmaster of Bensenville."

LOS ANGELES SUSPECT IS CAUGHT IN SECRET RAID

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(UP)—Federal agents said today they swooped down on a luxurious apartment here several days ago and captured Charles J. Fitzgerald, 60, wanted in the $100,000 Hamm kidnapping in St. Paul, with such secrecy that local police were unaware of the raid.

Fitzgerald was spirited out of the city and may be in St. Paul now, they said.

They said their secrecy was to prevent possible repetition of the Kansas City railroad depot massacre.

Department of Justice agents walked into the apartment with drawn guns. Fitzgerald raised his hand and said quietly:

"You've got me boys. I give up."

Federal operatives, without the knowledge of other tenants, rented nearly every vacant apartment in the building and watched Fitzgerald's suite for two weeks.

They found him living alone, apparently plentifully supplied with funds, but with none of the Hamm ransom money in his possession.

He dressed expensively and other tenants of the exclusive Wilshire district dwelling believed him a wealthy man of leisure. Fitzgerald had been using an assumed name.

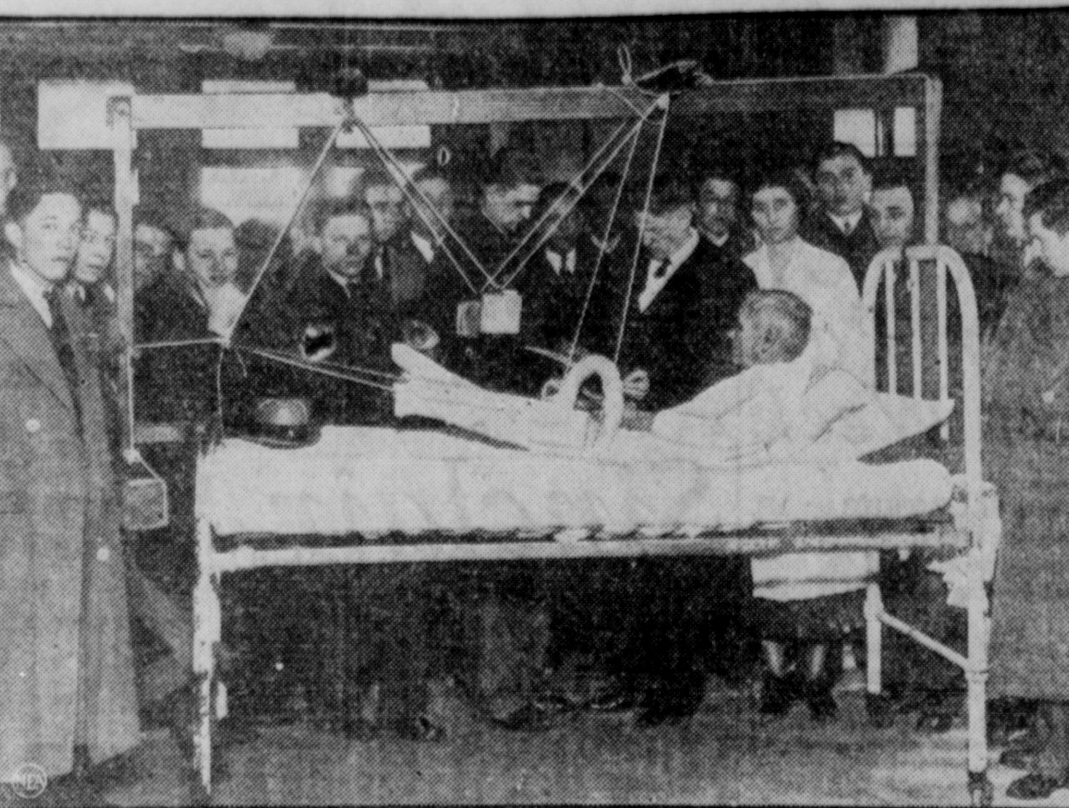

Agents said they believed Fitzgerald led the kidnap gang, and was the man who halted William Hamm with a greeting in downtown St. Paul, then jerked the victim into the kidnap car.

The boys enjoyed a ball game followed by refreshments of birthday cake decorated with tiny green, ice cream and punch.

Present were Charles Simpson, Donnie McConnell, Robert Estep, Edward Conkle, Jack Simmons and Robert Oscar McIntosh.

Visit to Hospital Is Lesson to Reckless Drivers

Hammering home a lesson in safety to reckless drivers, Municipal Judge John Gutknecht, shown at left of the nurse, conducted 39 youthful speeders to the Chicago hospital bedside of John McCann, a traffic victim, shown with his injured limbs strapped up and elevated. Following that, the party visited the morgue and the offenders contributed a fund of about $200 to aid victims of careless driving.

PRISON FARM SITE QUESTION MAY GO BEFORE C. C. MEMBERS

Executive officers of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce today were busy contacting members of the board of directors to determine whether or not the matter of locating a state prison farm for first offenders near Costa Mesa should be considered by the chamber membership.

The activity followed a request to the chamber that the question be submitted to the membership, according to Secretary Howard I. Wood. The matter will be decided early next week.

In the meantime, Assemblyman Edward T. "Ted" Craig, speaker of the house and member of the prison site committee, said today that no decision on the location of the prison site in Orange county would be made next Tuesday.

The prison site committee, Craig said, will gather in Los Angeles next Tuesday and then will go to inspect two proposed sites about 100 miles north of Los Angeles. These two sites are in Kern county and the eastern part of San Luis Obispo counties, both of which now are considered as being in Southern California, Craig said.

No decision on the prison farm site will be made by the committee Tuesday, Craig said, and indicated that it is doubtful if any site will be decided upon until the Costa Mesa site is either accepted or rejected. This will depend on public opinion, it was indicated. Craig said he still does not see what good the prison farm site will do Orange county, declaring that he would deem it a favor on the part of Orange county if it allows the prison site to be located here by the state.

Returned from a committee meeting in Los Angeles, yesterday Craig said that residents of Orange county should immediately advise the state prison site committee of their personal attitude on the matter, because he has failed to secure abandonment of the Orange county site.

Mexican President Stands at Altar to Flay Priests

First president of Mexico to enter a Roman Catholic church in many years, Lazaro Cardenas is shown as he broke all precedent by standing at the altar of Ciudad Gonzalez church to charge that priests were responsible for the clash in town in which 16 were killed and 30 wounded. The riot broke out as worshippers emerged from the recently reopened church and battled a mission group that was explaining Mexico's system of Socialistic education, bitterly opposed by the church.

ring the federal agent's early start and the federal government's prestige, for it was understood it was the New York police who directed private detectives to the capture in Europe through information largely obtained through the Marchioness Davico. The men that both policemen wished to question, and I believe bring to America, were Jacob Schwarz, Czechoslovakian and Bernard Klein, Hungarian. Klein had $440,000 worth of the Bank of Manhattan company's bonds when arrested in Monte Carlo.

The Marchioness Davico, who is estranged from her husband, said she established contact with some of the suspected men on a trip to Europe last year and another this year.

She said she heard of David Frank, one of the men arrested here, several months ago through Anthony De Pasquale, a since slain former restaurant owner.

Later, she said, she met Frank at the bar of a Park avenue hotel and he gave her a list of serial numbers of some securities he wished to sell. She sent the list to an investment broker, who discovered the securities had been stolen. He notified the district and the justice department.

Authorities believe De Pasquale, whose slaying by gunmen had been a puzzle to police for a year, was the messenger who smuggled stolen bonds and notes out of the United States to salesmen in Europe.

RAIN PROBABLE FOR BEAR-HUSKY BATTLE

SEATTLE, April 18.—(UP)—Under skies threatening rain, two closely matched crews meet on picturesque Lake Washington today in the thirty-first annual renewal of University of California's rivalry with the University of Washington.

Officials expected between 50,000 and 75,000 persons to turn out for the three-mile, eight-oared duel between the two crew giants of the west, both ambitious of future victories at Poughkeepsie and in trials which will determine the United States' representative in the Berlin Olympic Games.

YOUNG PEOPLES CHOR SINGS AT ABBEY SUNDAY

The Musical Memory Hour offering at Melrose Abbey, Sunday afternoon, April 19, will be the Young Peoples Choir of the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Ana, one of the important musical organizations of the county. This fine group of young musicians under the direction of Mr. Whitford L. Hall, minister of music, is making a conscientious study of voice culture that is showing remarkable results in the development of both the individual and the choir as a whole. The recent Easter appearances of this choir, both as soloists and as a choir, received much praise from the hundreds who heard them at both the First Presbyterian and First Christian Churches of Santa Ana. Their work in the presentation of Sir Jon Stainer's "The Crucifixion" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" by Handel, both universally famous, were said to have been one of the finest music lovers of this community. These numbers will be repeated on the program Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock to which the public is invited.

The choir will appear in their newly acquired Westminster robes. Pauline Graef Rhoades will act as organist, opening the program with two numbers "Melody" (Davies) and "Berceuse" (Spinnery). "Peace, I Leave With You" (Speaks), will be rendered as a soprano solo by Genevieve Hall.

Mr. Hall has chosen for the choir three groups of outstanding numbers. "Bless The Lord" (Ivanoff), "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" (German Melody); "The Radiant Morn" (Woodward); "God So Loved the World" from the Crucifixion (Stainer); "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" (Dickinson); "Cherubim Song" (Bortolansky); "Alleluia Christ Is Risen" (Kopeloff); "All In The April Evening" (Robertson) and "Hallelujah Chorus," The Messiah by Handel.

Selected Scriptures, prayer and the benediction will be offered by Captain G. L. Hall.

This delightful program will be held in the chapel of Melrose Abbey which is located on 101 Highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

BELLA VISTA SEEN AS FINE HOME CENTER

That Orange county and the general east Los Angeles area immediately adjacent is destined for a substantial upturn in home construction activity, is the observation of E. Ray Evans, newly-appointed branch manager for the Hamilton Sales corporation in the marketing of the rapidly expanding home community of Bella Vista.

Entering the Hamilton organization with a wide experience in the marketing of properties and an enviable reputation as a counselor of realty investment trends, Mr. Evans has opened offices at 107 West Chapman street, Orange.

Charles S. Herbst of 112 West Ash street, Fullerton, is representing the Hamilton organization as a unit manager, as is Miss Daisy Fulwiler at 321 Orange avenue, Santa Ana.

To back up his statements that Southern California, and particularly this general area is entering a period of extreme building activity, Mr. Evans declared today:

"For example, the Bella Vista area showed an increase of more than 167 per cent in building permits during the first quarter of 1936 as compared with the first three months of 1935. In addition to this, it is significant that the increase for Monterey Park was 283 per cent and Montebello 175 per cent."

"We feel that Bella Vista is particularly fortunate from an investment standpoint, in that the present activity of east Los Angeles industries has brought about an acute shortage of homes and income structures."

JIMMY FIDLER in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 18.—Idle chatter: Present-day stars might take lessons in press hospitality from Douglas Fairbanks, ever affable toward newspaper photographers and reporters. Leap Year notes: Dick Powell, Robert Taylor and (this will stun you) Brian Donlevy lead in fan mail proposals. Torrents of angry letters reach my desk from people who resent Greta Garbo's reported lavish expenditures in Sweden, when she is notoriously stingy with her American-made dollars over here. Candidate for the most beautiful eyes: Rochelle Hudson, Marion Davies and Otto Kruger seem to have found the Fountain of Youth. Both retain remarkable grasps on youngish appearance and actions.

Grace Moore's fret at the movie centers on director Joseph von Sternberg, who megaphoned her latest. Despite adversity, Huntly Gordon has clung to his one prized possession, his stamp collection. Reduced to slim rent-and-food-money, he refused to part with the stamps, worth thousands. Janet Gaynor's nickname "Lollie" is a schoolyard throwback; she won it because of her fondness for a certain candy delicacy. Screen tests of Lady Cavendish (Adele Astaire) turned out so poorly that brother Fred requested they be given to him, rather than stored in studio archives as is customary.

Newspaper cameramen who had had no luck snapping Katharine Hepburn are getting a lemony laugh out of the title of her next flicker, "Portrait of a Rebel." Classic crack: Tom Mix, "As long as there is hair dry, I won't be gray." From Jack Oakie: "Hollywood, where a guy borrows three cents mail a letter back home telling the folks how well he's doing." Peas from the same pod: Dolores Costello and Marian Marsh.

A. is offering recreation rooms for a junior high party Saturday afternoon, and the First Methodist church is preparing the banquet to be given in its dining rooms Saturday night.

Brakeman, housing; Mrs. C. W. Atkinson, registration and assignment; Miss Mildred Marchant and Guild counselors; reception, Mrs. R. E. McBurney; banquet and lunches; Mrs. L. E. Coffman, church decoration; Mrs. E. A. Bell, banquet decoration; Miss Gertrude Minor, information; Mrs. M. M. Holmes, hospitality; Miss Geraldine Cole, ushers and pages; Miss Edna Ingham, badger and signs; Mrs. Harry Harlow, exhibit and book room; Mrs. C. A. Harp, publicity; Mac Robbins, transportation; L. C. Fairbanks, check room.

POETICS WILL BE DISCUSSED IN S. A. CHURCH

A new series of sermons opens at the Unitarian church tomorrow, under the general title of "Ethical Values Interest in Some Modern Political Issues."

The ethical values inherent in production for use will be the first issue considered. The ethical values inherent in the Young Republican's platform, adopted at Santa Barbara recently, will be the second, and the third, the last Sunday before the primary election, will glance at some of the ethical values which the New Deal has been built upon, according to the Rev. Julia N. Budlong, minister.

"It is one of the comforting considerations of the bewildered world that each and every issue which goes before any people at any time is built, in pretense at least, upon some ethical value," she stated today. "It proves that the peoples of the world want to do right, at least; that the only way to win them is to make them believe we stand for the right. Our problem as citizens very quickly resolves itself into choosing between conflicting goods."

It is a goal, then, prior to any election to weigh and measure the right and wrong, the good and bad, in the issues which are up for the province of the church at all times.

The services begin at 11 o'clock, following the Junior Fellowship hour. During the 10 o'clock hour an adult discussions class is held, reviewing the history and development of liberal religion, particularly in America. Tomorrow's discussion will concern the manner in which liberal religion met the issue of biblical authority and it will be led by Ted Blaudine, reviewing a tract by Theodore Parker, "The Transient and Permanent in Christianity."

The forum for political education which meets at the church Wednesdays at 7:30, will be given over to an analysis of the ideals of the Young Republicans in this state, the platform they drew up at the Santa Barbara conference being the basis of a discussion to be led by Murray M. Chotiner, a Los Angeles attorney, chairman of speakers for the state central committee of the Republican party. The forum is free to the public and is called to order at 7:30 by its presiding officer, Mr. Blaudine.

MONDAY FINAL DAY FOR BACK TAX PAYMENTS

"Monday is the last legal date for starting installment payments of back taxes," W. T. Lambert, county auditor, informed delinquent taxpayers today.

"Moreover, it is the final date that the law sets for permitting payment of back taxes without penalties or costs. Only interest at seven per cent is added, figured from July 1, 1934, regardless of the period covered by delinquent taxes."

That there is some misunderstanding regarding the privileges of taxpayers under Section 3817 of the Political Code, as amended, is explained by Auditor Lambert. The first installment payment on back taxes is a minimum of one-tenth of the total in arrears, not including any part of the taxes which became due November 1, 1935. To this is added all of the interest on back taxes which has accrued, figured from July 1, 1934, the date set in the law.

In order to make such payment effective, the current 1935-36 taxes must be paid to the tax collector. The final legal date for this is also Monday, April 20.

After the first installment payment is made on back taxes, the total balance is protected against penalties. This unpaid balance draws interest at seven per cent per annum. Payments are required annually before April 30 each year, but may be made more often than once a year. The total remainder may be paid at any time. Hundreds of new accounts are being opened, Auditor Lambert commented.

Crows Build Fence-Wire Nests

Dead mulberry trees stretch gnarled fingers into the sky near Dalhart, Tex., their trunks scoured clean of bark by the flying sand of repeated dust storms. In the bare, dead branches, crows have built nests from strands of broken and rusted barbed wire from abandoned fences. To the far horizon, nothing breaks the wind's force.

DISINTEGRATION

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The Chicago shock has left the top Democratic moguls with a suspicion that the Kelly-Nash machine may soon be missing on all cylinders. It seems they know far more about that than has been advertised.

For instance, there is one Tom Courtney on whom they have their eyes. Mr. Courtney is the state's attorney in Chicago, a lamb who was marked for slaughter by the machine of which he was a member.

The boys around headquarters have heard that Mr. Courtney got wind of a meeting some time back at which the Nash-Kelly slate was picked. Although he was not invited, he sent word over to the general effect that he understood the meeting was going on and wished it well, or at least something which rhymes with well.

Of course, an ordinary state's attorney generally has enough on top of his own machine crowd to hang them. But Mr. Courtney hanged no one, at least not openly. Officially, he "remained out" of the primary fight, which is the polite way of saying he did a little undercover work for Governor Horner.

The big shots are saying that, if the Nash-Kelly machine goes, it will be supplanted by "a half dozen smart Irishmen who saw the wind and rode with it." Among those present, it is said, will be Mr. Courtney and Governor Horner.

BACKGROUND

The New Dealers may be whistling in the dark, but they assert that the upset will not be disastrous for them in November. They say they kept out of the situation, but perhaps not enough out.

All the boys had forgotten about Governor Horner since December. When President Roosevelt spoke there then in the stockyards, Horner out in left field throughout the president's stay.

They say the final blow which hurt Messrs. Nash and Kelly was the mayor's attempt to put Chicago on eastern standard time. Down-staters do not want their time tinkered with.

FRANCHISE

Dead men vote in congress under certain conditions. In the house, a committee can be discharged from consideration of a bill if 218 members sign a petition. Under a ruling by the late Speaker Ray, a member's signature, which is equivalent to a vote, is effective after his death.

The Frazier-Lemke inflation bill petition contains the name of two deceased members, the late Wesley Lloyd of Washington and Charles Truax.

OUT Anti-Landonites won't admit it but they have almost folded up their political tents—forever. They are about ready to "amen" Campaign Manager John Hamilton's farfetched prediction that the Kansas governor will go over on the second ballot.

Hostile higher-ups on the national committee got out their pencils at a secret New York confab. They began on the undisputed basis that it requires 501 votes for the nomination, so they figured up the anti-Landon total. The results amazed the consultants. Allotting 100 delegates to Senator Borah, 100 to Colonel Knox, 50 to the shy Senator Vandenberg and 50 to Senator Dickinson—and including four definitely anti-Landon delegations from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut—they could mobilize only 516 sure votes against the Kansas. Even the loss of California's uncommitted but Hoover delegation would boost the opposition's strength to only 560 votes leaving 441 to Mr. Landon.

Now the veterans realize that any man who enters a convention with that total is bound to win. If he doesn't, the party is bound to lose. So that's the prospect faced by eastern bosses who suspect that their rule is ended if Mr. Landon becomes the nominee and Mr. Hamilton the chairman of the Republican National committee.

OPENING

A born and boring letter-writer recently wrote to the Du Pont brothers suggesting that they disband the Liberty League if they were sincere in their advertised desire to defeat President Roosevelt.

The volunteer adviser pointed out that Al Smith, the League's principal anti-Roosevelt orator, was once a liberal. It cited legislation which he had sponsored at Albany. Then it asked why the Du Ponts smiled on Al and frowned on Franklin. Next it maintained that the Liberty League under its present auspices was Mr. Roosevelt's shiniest asset.

The Du Ponts' reply was complimentary neither to Al nor to Franklin. It said that Mr. Smith may have been a radical in years gone by, but the Du Ponts were convinced that he had seen the "errors of his early ways." Therefore they adored him. The letter also held out the hope that if Mr. Roosevelt would repent and recant, the Du Ponts would also make him an honorary member of the Liberty League.

POINT

Congressional economists often squeeze a penny and throw a dollar down the sink. That seems to be the situation with respect to House members' demand that the United States withdraw from the International Labor organization set up under the auspices of the League of Nations.

It costs Uncle Sam about $385,000 a year to belong and to participate in the labor group's activities, and House Democrats consider it a waste of money. They have recommended that Congress formally sever any connection with the Geneva agency. But FDR won't stand for it, although he has not announced his reaction to the Congressional ultimatum.

He knows that membership saves Uncle Sam more money than it costs to belong. The Social Security Board saved $400,000—more than one year's payments—because of funds furnished to it by the Geneva experts. Next fall the League will stage a conference on maritime problems, and the major question will be whether the three-watch system prevailing on American ships shall be installed on foreign vessels. There will be no argument if Uncle Sam's representatives aren't on hand. But if they can win their point—and chances are good—the saving to American marine interests will equal ten years' cost for signing up.

BRINGS DOG BACK TO HIS PLAYMATES

"Bonzo," beloved dog playmate of the Duffy family, 1304 West Fourth street, is home again and again to his family, Mrs. Minnie C. Duffy said today.

"Bonzo" was riding in the rear compartment of the Duffy car, driven by Mrs. Duffy, when he tumbled to the pavement as the car rounded the corner at Washington avenue and Lacy street Thursday afternoon. He jumped up and ran away, not missed by his owner until later. Last evening, "Bonzo" was found bewildered and wandering along, near the Shell Oil station at Seventh and Main streets, by Station Manager M. F. Edwards. Mrs. Edwards took "Bonzo" in and cared for him; then, after reading in The Register last night of his disappearance, returned him to Mrs. Duffy, where Billy, 15, the Duffy children, put on a "happiness" demonstration, in welcoming him back. "We certainly appreciate the assistance of both the Edwards and The Register," Mrs. Duffy said today.

MORSE, MOUND, ACE, MAY 'JUMP' STARS

Three Records Fall In County Meet

PANTHERS AND SALORS TAKE PRELIMINARIES

Orange league record books ported three new marks today following the sterling performances out forth in the all-county track meets at Anaheim and Newport harbor yesterday.

Standards in the high jump, road jump and pole vault were erased through the efforts of athletes from Anaheim and Tustin. Tanaka of the Colonists registered the first new mark when he hopped 22 ft. 1-2 in. to surpass the old broad jump of 21 ft. 1-2 in. set by Tustin's Al Parr in 1932.

Anaheim recorded its banner day at record-smashing when Baker cleared 5 ft. 11-2 in. in the high jump to replace the mark of 5:9-2 held by Garden Grove's McClain. Taddick, Tustin's petite vaulter, jackknifed 11 ft. 1-2 in. to snap the 11:6 mark made by another Tustinite, Ken Dills, in 1932.

In the Major division, Orange scored 55-1-2 points to Anaheim's 34-1-2 and Huntington Beach's 36. The title in the Minor division went to Newport Harbor with 65 points, other schools trailing in this order: Tustin 23, Brea-Olinda 20, Valencia 8, Garden Grove 6, San Juan Capistrano 4, and Laguna Beach 2.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Brea's Sam Henderson who tossed the discus 119:5, within six inches of Clarence Japes' standard of 120:1 set in 1930; Valero of Valencia coasted a to win the mile in 4:44 while Anaheim's Ruiz and Huntington Beach's Tinsley staged stirring duels in the dashes. Ruiz took the "hundred" in 1:05, Tinsley the 20 in 23.5. Summaries:

INDIAN BROOM'S TRAINER IS ORANGE COUNTY MAN

Orange county, and more especially Santa Clemente, will have a sentimental interest in the great Kentucky Derby next month. An Orange county man, Derrill Cannon, trains the sensational 3-year-old, Indian Broom, that last week set a world's record for a mile-and-an-eighth in the Marchbank Handicap at Tanforan. Cannon makes one of those rags-to-riches stories.

He was H. H. Cotton's trainer at Santa Clemente for many years. When Cotton disposed of his string of horses, Cannon's star set for a time. He was knocking around without work at Santa Anita a few weeks ago, just following the races as many old horsemen do.

He was "hoping for a break" when Major Austin Taylor, a wealthy British Columbia mining man, purchased Indian Broom and

RABBITS JOINT SAINT GRANCES WITH 9-2 WIN

Several other horses from Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan. Taylor, a racing neophyte, took Cannon on as his trainer. Cannon has done a perfect job. The Santa Clemente man made a champion out of a chump, for Indian Broom had shown little when Bob Smith of the Sloan

Baseball championships in the Coast Preparatory league customarily go either to Long Beach or San Diego, and no exception to the rule is likely this season.

Santa Ana, an upstart pretender to the throne, fell by the wayside yesterday at Long Beach where the Jackrabbits pounced on Jimmy Wilkins and his erring colleagues for an easy 9-2 victory. The defeat shoved the Saints into the second division. The conflict was one-sided because the Rabbits hit in the ninches and because six Saint errors all proved costly.

For instance, when Dan Lang hit a first-inning homer to center, it followed a walk to Pitcher Joe Skeber and a single by Orman. The Rabbits added three more in the second. Besseto singled and V. Stephens was safe on Jesse's error. Skeber's high fly a few feet from second base dropped safe when three Saints thought somebody else would make the catch so Besseto scored on what should have been an easy second out. Orman fanned but the side wasn't retired. D. Lang lifted weakly to Reid back of first base and Stephens and Skeber tallied when Big Bob muffed it.

C. Stevens singled in the fifth, stole second and took third on Wall's wild throw, completing the circuit while Youel was throwing out Sturgeon.

The other Long Beach runs arrived in the seventh. Bartlow was safe on Reid's error but Lang forced him. C. Stevens singled Lang to third and Stevens took second on the throw-in. Garboud's drive over short brought both runners across.

Santa Ana scored in the second and third. Ferris Wall's home run to left-center accounted for the first one. Reid's triple to right led up to the other. Hemphill hit back to Skeber who threw him out. Reid broke for home. He was trapped but tallied when Third Baseman Garboud threw wide to the plate. The Saints put up Valencia Tuesday and got Montebello here Wednesday. Alhambra will be at Poly field next Friday for a league game.

Lawrence, Kans., April 18.—(UP)—Glenn Morris, a comparative unknown from Denver, today led a field of nationally known track and field stars into the final round of competition in the decathlon contest of the 14th annual Kansas Relays.

Morris piled up a total of 4,135 points in the first five events of the arduous test. The defending champion, Clyde Coffman, Topeka, Kans., trailed Morris with 3,905 points. Close behind Coffman was Jay Berwanger, University of Chicago, with 3,769.

Final competition between the 17 decathlon contestants will be held this morning. The relays proper will get underway this afternoon.

Four of the relay contests will depict Olympic contestants. Glenn Cunningham, holder of the mile record, will run in the 1,500-meter event. The other Olympic contestants will be the 3,000-meter steeplechase, the 400-meter hurdles and the hop, step and jump.

Home runs—D. Lang, Wall, 3 base hit—Reid. Stolen bases—C. Stevens, Jesse (2), Hemphill, Wall, Reid, C. Garboud, Sturgeon. Struck out by Skeber 7, by Wilkins 7. Bases on balls of Skeber 2, off Wilkins 3. Umpire—Gerald Calhoun.

San Francisco, April 18.—(UP)—The California state athletic commission today delivered a smashing blow to the ring aspirations of Phil Brubaker, Dinuba heavyweight, by suspending Brubaker, his manager and two associates indefinitely for allegedly "doping" Phil's hands to ease the pain of injuries.

The suspension followed extended investigation of Brubaker's fight some months ago with King Levinsky, whom Brubaker decimated in 10 rounds after flooring him three times.

Brubaker was present at the meeting at which the commission took its drastic action, halting at least temporarily a career many fight experts had regarded as promising.

Obviously dejected, Brubaker did not deny his hands had been treated before the Levinsky fight to make them immune to pain of the injuries sustained in training. "At the time," he said, "I didn't know it was against the rules. I wanted to protect myself and the fans and my future. I had been training for weeks with sore hands and knew I couldn't do my best without treatment."

An athletic commission rule specifically forbids use of alcohol or drugs of any kind either during or before a match under penalty of license revocation. As a result of the decision, a pending rematch between Brubaker and Levinsky and another fight matching the 21-year-old Dinuba and Abe Feldman, New York heavyweight, were expected to be cancelled.

Koepsel Quits Cinderpath Rest of Season

Although he will do no more running this year, Vernon Koepsel, Santa Ana junior college sprint star, has not run his last race.

Following a physician's examination late yesterday it was disclosed that Koepsel had done no permanent injury to Koepsel's heart. It seems that a characteristic of the flu this year has been that it weakens the heart muscles but inflicts no permanent disability. Following doctor's orders, Koepsel will have a complete lay off from track competition until next year.

ARLINGTON IN SURPRISE WIN OVER CHAMPS

Huntington Beach suffered one of its infrequent defeats by an American league club last night when Arlington picked Loue Neva for runs in the sixth and seventh innings for a surprise 4-3 decision over the Southern California softball champions. Two errors helped Arlington score the deciding runs.

The score: Arlington, 4; Huntington Bch., 3. AB R H: Bridges 2b 5 0 0; Thery, 2b 4 1 1; Webb c 4 0 0; McKintley 3b 5 0 0; Cook c 2 1 0; Murray 1b 4 1 2; Krick p 2 1 0; Nava c 5 0 0; Stene 4 1 1; Hughes ss 4 1 2; Goodreau 4 1 0; Rodgers ss 4 1 2; Burch 2b 3 1 0; Osborn rf 4 0 1; Ruskart rf 3 0 1; Smith 1b 4 0 0; Mays cf 4 0 1; Downer p 0 0 0; Smith p 1 0 0; Cogran p 1 0 0; Hair p 0 0 0; L. Neva p 2 1 1.

Bruce Harnois made a spectacular debut as a softball pitcher in the Westminster-Riverside contest which Westminster won with a makeshift lineup, 5-2. Striking out 11, Harnois scattered six hits like a seasoned submariner. Leo Morse hit a homer for the Aviators. Lineups:

Westminster, AB R H: McNabb 2b 4 0 1; Stocking 1b 4 0 1; Webb c 4 0 0; McKintley 3b 5 0 0; Harnois p 5 1 3; Hunter 3b 4 0 0; Krick p 2 1 0; Nava c 5 0 0; Stene 4 1 1; Hughes ss 4 1 2; Goodreau 4 1 0; Rodgers ss 4 1 2; Burch 2b 3 1 0; Osborn rf 4 0 1; Ruskart rf 3 0 1; Smith 1b 4 0 0; Mays cf 4 0 1; Downer p 0 0 0; Smith p 1 0 0; Cogran p 1 0 0; Hair p 0 0 0; L. Neva p 2 1 1.

Covina turned back Ben Gekker's Olive Packers at Covina. Olive started a young gunner from Los Angeles named Pitsonberger and before he could retire the side Covina had piled up a four-run lead in the first inning. Olive made both its runs in the first. Score:

Olive, AB R H: Harnois 2b 5 1 1; McKintley 3b 5 0 0; Cook c 2 1 0; Murray 1b 4 1 2; Krick p 2 1 0; Nava c 5 0 0; Stene 4 1 1; Hughes ss 4 1 2; Goodreau 4 1 0; Rodgers ss 4 1 2; Burch 2b 3 1 0; Osborn rf 4 0 1; Ruskart rf 3 0 1; Smith 1b 4 0 0; Mays cf 4 0 1; Downer p 0 0 0; Smith p 1 0 0; Cogran p 1 0 0; Hair p 0 0 0; L. Neva p 2 1 1.

Huntington Beach's chances for an Orange league track championship slipped a notch today when it was learned that Marshall Tinsley, Olympic sprint star, will observe his twelfth birthday next Wednesday. Just three days before the county meet at Tustin.

The new C. I. F. age limit ruling which bars from competition any athlete 20 years old, declared Coach Harry Sheue's pre school athletic participation.

DECIDE MONDAY ABOUT IN SAN DIEGO

New York, April 18.—(UP)—Definite decision on the proposal to move the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling prizefight from New York to San Diego will be reached Monday, Mike Jacobs, promoter, said today.

Jacobs today talked by telephone to Wayne Daillard, general manager of the San Diego exposition. Daillard said he had been working to comply with Jacobs' demand that $1,000,000 be placed in escrow in a New York bank before agreement on the transfer is made. Daillard said he believed the million would be available Monday.

The bout was scheduled to be held in New York in June, and would be held during that month if moved to California.

Riverside was claimant today to the Eastern conference dual track meet championship for the fifth time in six years following the Bengals' 72-1-3 to 58-2-3 victory over Fullerton's heretofore unbeaten Hornets at Fullerton yesterday.

Coach Jesse Mortensen's athletes put forth some of the best efforts recorded so far in the league. Big Ted Hucklebridge flipped the discus 135 ft. 3 in. and Randolph Carter won the 220 from Fullerton's Erwin Miller by inches in 21.9 sec. Paul Moore, smooth-striding runner from Fullerton, set a new meet record when he nosed out the Bengals' Stewart Sinclair in the half-mile in 2:01.9.

INDIAN BATTLER BREAKS ARM IN ARENA WIND UP

Fighting Indians from Sherman Institute had but two scalps hanging in their trophy room today following appearance of eight of their battlers at the Orange County Athletic club last night, the Sheramites losing six out of the eight bouts.

Bad luck that dogged the Indians was climaxed when Ray Valenzuela, crack lightweight, went to the hospital with a fractured arm. It happened in the main event, early in the second round. Valenzuela took a swing at Paul ("Schoolboy") Brown, his glove landing on Brown's arm and snapping the bone in his right arm above the elbow. While the Indian writhed on the canvas in agony, Referee Frankie Dolan counted him out. Brown had looked good, winning the first round handily.

Holiday Wins Again. Frankie Lockhart's slugger, Ken Holliday, fighting his usual slambang battle, won over Indian Clyde Lewis by a technical kayo in the second round. Holliday gave the game Indian no chance to get set, got him against the ropes and slaughtered him.

Larry Thomas from Los Angeles, who lately has been spending most of his time in the ring sleeping, reversed the usual procedure by bouncing a left off Bill Buffalo's chin early in the first round. The Indian was out like a light.

Raul Solis butchered Sherman's Tom Young, but never knocked him out. Solis, obviously more experienced than the Indian, cut Young to pieces with a stabbing left. The Indian's face was a gory mess. It was hardly a match.

Paul Hurtado, in winning a decision over Gerald Barry from Ontario, won one of two fights for the Indians. The only excitement in the bout took place in the first round when both battlers fell out of the ring.

Menta Stops Garcia. The other fight the Indians won was taken by Joe Menta, who knocked out Al Garcia in the second. The tough Injun kept a left in Garcia's face throughout the first round, flooring him with two lefts to the jaw.

Indian Uley Davis and Joe Orona staged a well-matched affair, the Indian losing the decision by a narrow margin.

Little Badge Diaz from Pomona, who has won his last four fights here by knockouts, repeated by putting down Indian Benny Collins to sleep in the second. It was tempestuous while it lasted.

HUNTINGTON BEACH LOSSES SPRINT STAR

Huntington Beach's chances for an Orange league track championship slipped a notch today when it was learned that Marshall Tinsley, Olympic sprint star, will observe his twelfth birthday next Wednesday. Just three days before the county meet at Tustin.

The new C. I. F. age limit ruling which bars from competition any athlete 20 years old, declared Coach Harry Sheue's pre school athletic participation.

RIVERSIDE DEFEATS HORNETS FOR TITLE

Riverside was claimant today to the Eastern conference dual track meet championship for the fifth time in six years following the Bengals' 72-1-3 to 58-2-3 victory over Fullerton's heretofore unbeaten Hornets at Fullerton yesterday.

Coach Jesse Mortensen's athletes put forth some of the best efforts recorded so far in the league. Paul Moore, smooth-striding runner from Fullerton, set a new meet record when he nosed out the Bengals' Stewart Sinclair in the half-mile in 2:01.9.

The Brooklyn Dodgers have probably the two oldest "rookies" in major league baseball on their roster. They are Johnny Conroy, 24, up from Indianapolis, and Oscar Eckhardt, 32, from the San Francisco Missions.

RINGS UP WIN

George Blaholder, below, husky Garden Grove pitcher, rang up his first victory in a Cleveland uni yesterday when the Tribe beat St. Louis in the tenth inning.

Orange County Downs rounds out a fullsome week of greyhound racing tonight with a nine-event program. Most of the track's consistent winners will go to the starting boxes.

Happy Laddie added the Orange County Course stakes to his Inaugural Victory last night. The ace of the O. C. Two other Jones dogs, Ping and Traffic Laddie, finished second and third.

SANTA ANA IN EASY TRIUMPH AT COLTON, 9-2

The San Joaquin Fever had another member of Santa Ana's Stars in its grip today.

Lyle Morse, pitching sensation of the club's spring exhibition series, was in Porterville, purportedly for the purpose of discussing terms with the outlaw league that recently failed to entice Jim Coates, No. 1 member of the Santa Ana staff, from his job here.

Leavitt Daley, Anaheim outfielder, was reported in Porterville with Morse.

Morse indicated, however, he would return to work here next week and pitch for the Stars against San Bernardino Monday night.

"But I can make more money up there than down here," he said, "I'm going up to see what kind of a proposition it is."

Morse pitched part of last night's game that Santa Ana won from Colton at Colton, 9 to 2. Coates started and showed no ill effects from his ten-day layoff because of an attack of shingles. Traveling three innings of shutout ball, he allowed two hits. Morse replaced him and continued to shell out the same brilliant ball of earlier spring starts, fanning 9 in 4 innings. An error, a fielder's choice and a timely double by Emery gave Colton its runs.

Santa Ana showed improvement in its attack and most of its 15 hits zoomed into the outfield. The Stars drove Vince Alexander out of the box in the fifth when Ballard doubled, Morse singled, Smith doubled and Conrad singled in succession.

The score: Santa Ana, 9; Colton, 2. AB R H: Smith rf 4 2 3; Emery 2b 4 0 2; Conrad ss 5 1 2; Schletter lf 3 0 0; Coates 1b 3 2 3; Stock 3b 4 0 0; Reboin cf 5 0 0; Johnston ss 3 0 1; Preble 2b 5 1 2; Bramlett lb 3 0 0; Koral c 3 0 0; Strinati c 4 1 1; Young 4 4 2; Shank cf 4 1 0; Baird lf 4 1 1; Phillips rf 4 0 0; Coates p 1 0 0; Alexander p 2 0 0; Morse p 3 1 1; Kerr p 1 0 0; Cook rf 1 1 1; Millman lf 1 0 0; Lacy lf 2 1 1; Stevens p 0 0 0.

Elizabeth A. Porter

Dropping in one evening to sit before my fire and talk poetry came Dr. Nelson of Redlands university, Anne Atwood and an eager dark-eyed young person, Elizabeth A. Porter. The daughter of a scientist and the mother of two small children, she is continuing her education (which was interrupted by her marriage) at Redlands university. She also plays the piano and writes charming lyrics such as these:

THE WIND

The wind is rollicking, mad-cap lover,
Swaggering home when the voyageage's over!
Carrying gifts in his eager hands,
Spicily fragrant from far-off lands.
Blustering merrily over the hill,
Singing his songs with a lusty will.

If you are afraid, stay in...under cover!
I shall run swift and free,
The wind is a rollicking mad-cap
lover,
Swaggering home to me!

EXPERIENCE

My house has many doors,
And eagerly, at first, I ran
To open every one.
Not knowing what brave view
It might disclose
To my adventuring eyes.

And then I moved less eagerly
From door to door.

And now on lingering feet
I stand without each threshold,
Fingering the handle timidly
With pale, cold hands
Then push it open . . . slowly.

WALLACE BEERY FILM. MYSTERY START SUNDAY

In the greatest role of his career, as a boisterous, roistering rogue—a charming villain who proved he had the stuff of heroism for the people he loved, Wallace Beery plays his most fascinating role in "A Message to Garcia," new adventure romance which opens at the Broadway theater tomorrow with a second feature, "Garden Murder Case."

Paired with Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles in the leading roles of "A Message to Garcia," a picture based on one of the most audacious exploits in history, Beery tops the finest of his previous performances in the film. In the steaming jungles of a tropical land where three people fight nature and the treachery of men to carry the message to Garcia, much of the dramatic action of the new picture takes place.

The dramatic tension increases with Barbara Stanwyck wounded and left behind as Boles and Beery press ahead. Then, just as Beery thinks he has brought Boles to Garcia, he discovers he has led him into an enemy trap. It is in the stirring, smashing climax that Beery atones for many of the things that have gone before, frees his friend and brings the romance to its happy conclusion.

The inimitable Phil Vance, with his suave polish masking a coldly analytical brain, is featured in "The Garden Murder Case." Edmund Lowe is the famous scientific sleuth, the super-sleuth who draws his way in and out of a series of thrilling adventures, more than once in actual danger of sudden death.

For the first time, in this film Vance falls in love, an experience more thrilling to him than any of his hair-raising adventures. Virginia Bruce is the smart society girl who gives him palpitation of the heart, and to save her from police suspicion, he risks not only his reputation but his life. Short subjects include a color cartoon and World Wide News events.

HARDING FILM. GREY DRAMA TO OPEN TUESDAY

The exciting story of a murder and courtroom trial, and the screen version of Zane Grey's famous novel "Desert Gold," offer the highlights of the program starting Tuesday at the West Coast theater, it was announced today by Manager Lester J. Fountain.

A man is murdered. The finger of guilt points to one of his business associates. He is placed on trial for his life in a New York court of justice. The courtroom is the principal setting of the story and the mystery of the murder is untangled there, but, as the stand there are flash-backs in which past events are relived. The first chapter is five reels in length, getting the new continued story off to a good start.

The feature film of the evening is "South of the Rio Grande," with Buck Jones providing plenty of fast action and hard fighting, as he battles a band of outlaws to save the life of his friend.

Other subjects on the program include "Mickey's Polo Team," a Mickey Mouse cartoon; "Hot Paprika," an Andy Clyde comedy, and a news reel.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," featuring Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur will be featured on the program to open at the West Coast theater on Sunday.

ROMANCE AND COMEDY COME TO WALKER'S NEW TWIN BILL NEXT THURSDAY AT BROADWAY

A whimsical and merry comedy heads the program at Walker's State theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is "If You Could Only Cook," with lovely Jean Arthur and gallant Herbert Marshall in the starring roles.

The story concerns a girl on a bank bench looking through the want-ads who mistakes a troubled millionaire, unhappy because he is betrothed to a girl he doesn't love and because his board of directors is proving obstreperous, as a down-on-his-luck white collar worker. She suggests they take a job together as butler and maid, posing as man and wife. He agrees and they land a job in the establishment of a "big shot" gangster, portrayed by Leo Carrillo.

The resulting situations provide many occasions for good laughs, according to Manager Vic Walker.

The second feature of the program is "Coronado," a musical romance. Betty Burgess has the lead, while Johnny Downs plays opposite her as the carefree son of a wealthy motor magnate, who falls in love with the charming young singer with a popular dance band. The band is Eddie Duchin's. Comedy is provided by Jack Haley, Andy Devine, Leon Errol and Alice White. Benton Churchill is cast as the wealthy manufacturer.

Selected short subjects on the program include the newest release of the March of Time, giving the news behind the news, and World News events.

SPY FILM AND AIR DRAMA NOW AT WEST COAST

Played against the colorful background of the World War, Herbert Marshall and Gertrude Michael are being featured at the West Coast theater in "Till We Meet Again," a stark love drama. The feature is aided by exceptionally fine acting and artistic photography.

The World War is still intriguing as a picture theme and it forms the background for some of the outstanding presentations such as "Till We Meet Again." The story opens in 1914 when England declared war on Germany. Marshall and Miss Michael, both on the stage, are parted because of the war.

Later both are thrust into daring espionage system and from there the story unfolds a story of love and intrigue that is breathtaking and gripping in its intensity of action throughout the drama. The fact that they are on opposite sides in the conflict add to the drama of the production.

The second feature, being presented on the same bill mark "13 Hours by Air," the case of which includes Zasu Pitts, John Howard, Bennie Bartlett and Grace Bradley.

All action in the picture takes place in the air the picture depicting a drama of a New York-San Francisco flight in a transport plane, piloted by Fred MacMurray. While the ship is roaring across the country there is an attempted murder in the plane, an attempt to crash the ship and numerous other dramatic incidents.

A Mickey Mouse cartoon "Mickey's Grand Opera," and a news feature complete the bill.

TWIN BILL CLOSING BROADWAY TONIGHT

Residents of Santa Ana and vicinity will have the last opportunity tonight to see the unusually attractive double feature program at the Broadway theater which features "Sutter's Gold" and "Too Many Parents" on the same bill.

Edward Arnold is starred as John Sutter, the man who established the "empire of New Helvetia" in California. In "Sutter's Gold," the thrilling drama traces the travels of the pioneer from his native Switzerland through various countries until he travels across America on the plains to California.

Most of the action takes place in California in the time of the historic gold rush, when frenzied lawlessness brings disaster to the settler. How he carries on a campaign of retribution furnishes the drama in the film. The cast includes Lee Tracy, Binnie Barnes, Katharine Alexander, Addison Richards, Montagu Love and John Miljan.

Dealing with the human and poignant problems of boyhood, "Too Many Parents" typifies the modern problem of marriage and divorce, telling the story of a fine young boy whose father finally recognized the value of his boy's affection. The cast includes Frances Farmer, Lester Mathews, Henry Travers, Porter Hall and five juvenile players: Sherwood Bailey, George Ernest, Douglas Scott, Buster Phelps and Billy Lee.

Musical Arts
Members Hear
Book Reviews

Reviewing three new reference books on music, Mrs. Merritt White provided an interesting program for members of Musical Arts club yesterday afternoon in James' cafe.

"Boston Symphony Program Notes," by Philip Hale; "Victor Book of the Symphony," by Charles O'Connell, and "The Man with the Baton," by David Ewen, were reviewed by Mrs. White. Ninety symphonic works, from the time of Bach to Wagner, are analyzed in the first book, the speaker pointed out.

In her discussion of "Victor Book of the Symphony," Mrs. White gave as the book's purpose "aiding people generally to gain a better understanding of symphonic music." She quoted the author, O'Connell, who considers it legitimate for the personality of the conductor to enter into the orchestra's interpretation of the selection. This idea is in contrast to that of David Ewen, author of the third book, who believes that the only true interpretation of a musical selection is as a reproduction of the composer's original idea.

With Miss Beulah Parker conducting and Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano, members sang several numbers in preparation for the program which they will present Friday evening at Long Beach Musical Arts club at 8 o'clock meeting in the Gastin Music-Arts studio on North Sycamore street.

Mrs. W. B. Snow, president, conducted the meeting. Welcomed as new members were Miss Charlotte Hollister, Orange; Mrs. Constance Sneyley, Mr. and Mrs. Whitford Hall, Mrs. Marguerite Ludlow, Lorene Croddy Graves.

Mrs. Leslie Steffenson announced that a Pomona college professor will give an address at the club meeting May 1.

Club Hostess Presides At Pleasant Affair

Mrs. Howard K. McIlvain received members of her bridge club Thursday afternoon as hostess at a pleasant event in the home of Mr. McIlvain's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McIlvain, 2448 Riverside Drive.

Tables spread with pastel-hued linens were centered with bouquets of vari-colored flowers. The serving of a desert coffee, Mrs. G. N. Coon scored high in card games of the afternoon.

Present with the hostess and Mrs. H. D. McIlvain were Mesdames Elmie Swan, G. N. Coon, Leiland Coon, Edward Grothier, Frank Lane, R. E. Couch, Peter McIntosh, Charles Hawthorne, E. Kruger, C. Raymond Walter, all of this community; Mrs. William Almas, Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Almas will be hostess at the next meeting, April 20, when covered-dish luncheon will be served in her home.

Garden Section Spends Day in Santa Monica

Forty members and guests of Ebell Garden section spent Thursday in Santa Monica, devoting the greater part of the time to a tour of the Evans Rare Plant gardens. Rare tropical plants from South Africa and Central America proved of special interest to the group.

Layette Event
Honors Former Local Resident

Mrs. Vernon Schauppner of Los Angeles, who will be remembered as Miss Ruth Heim of this city, was complimented at a layette shower Thursday evening in the Fullerton home of Mrs. Robert Allen (Eileen Carroll).

Flowers used in decorating the home included a bouquet of sweet peas provided by Mrs. Schauppner's mother, Mrs. Carl Heim of Santa Ana.

Prizes in three different games of the evening rewarded Mrs. Julian Heim, Miss Grace Anderson and Miss Cleona Fine for their high scores. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Julia Heim, Miss Grace Pickens and Miss Rose Allen.

The honoree was showered with gifts wrapped in pink and blue tissues and ribbons. Fruit salad topped with whipped cream was served with cookies at the close of the evening, when small tables were daintily appointed.

Present in addition to Mrs. Schauppner and her mother, Mrs. Carl Heim, were Mrs. Kenneth Hill, Fullerton, and Mesdames Russell Daley, Andrew Carroll, Julian Heim and the Misses Cleona Fine, Edna May Heim, Rose Allen, Grace Anderson, Grace Pickens, and the hostess, Mrs. Allen.

Arrival within the week of Miss Dorothy Forgy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Forgy, 2107 North Broadway, from her two months' trip to Panama and coastal points in South America, has been welcomed by a host of friends, eager to hear her accounts of a most enjoyable voyage. Miss Forgy sailed for Panama on one of the United Fruit liners, and there transferred to the famous "Columbus" of the North German Lloyd.

The succeeding voyage through the Straits of Magellan, (whose leading city she found most interesting for its predominantly British population), down the west coast of South America and up the east coast with various ports of call, was in ideal weather and smoother seas. Buenos Aires she considered unusually appealing with its buildings, sidewalk cafes and other features reminiscent of Paris, but Rio she declared to be the most beautiful of all the cities visited. Trinidad, Naussau and other points were visited en route to New York, where friends made her week's stay a round of gayeties.

Pittsburgh where she visited relatives and friends, was her only other stop on the westward train trip, and there she saw the havoc wreaked by the recent floods. Incidentally she declares she heard flood stories that exceeded even those of Santa Ana's famous earthquake.

Co-hostesses Arrange Flowers Effectively
For Bridge Party

When Mrs. G. N. Coon and Mrs. H. D. McIlvain joined yesterday in giving a dessert bridge party as a ways and means committee benefit for Woman's club of Santa Ana, they aroused enthusiasm of their guests by the unusually lovely flower decorations given the Coon home, 807 Orange avenue, where the party was staged.

Baskets of roses were used in the living room, their colors ranging from pale blush rose to flaming red. In the dining room prominence was given a great basket of mingled spring blossoms on the large table. Later in the afternoon it was made doubly effective by its circle of small pottery bowls of bright flowers which had been used to center small tables for the dessert course.

Mrs. Coon and Mrs. McIlvain were assisted in serving cake smothered with strawberries and whipped cream, and coffee by the former's daughter, Mrs. E. J. Grothier.

Mrs. W. L. Luedke, scoring high among contract players, and Mrs. R. A. McMahon, with similar rating in auction, received the daintiest of imported guest and finger tip towels from their hostesses. These were hand-embroidered in flower colors. To Mrs. R. N. Wimbush and Mrs. Earl Waycott, second in the two groups, were given their choice of the exquisite baskets of roses. Then all the flowers were divided among the remaining guests until each one took home a fragrant memento of a pleasant afternoon.

The hostesses received for the party, Mesdames E. N. Waycott, Margaret Ahern, E. D. Froeschle, C. C. Ream, John J. Vernon, C. R. Walter, J. D. Watkins, E. M. Wright, Margaret K. Church, W. M. Wells, Jacob Bohlander, F. A. Martin, Ethel H. Brown, R. G. Car-

Arranged as a broadcasting studio, the rooms provided an appropriate setting for the event. F. W. Sanford presided as announcer and master of ceremonies. The program was composed of the Old Quilting party; the singing of 13 verses of an original song; an act by "Helpful Henry"; "The Famous Quintuplets Fifteen Years Hence"; "The Snitchfield Reporter"; lessons in cooking and in correct English; a children's hour and a short play.

The Rev. Father Timothy Galvin read the impressive ceremony, for which a little group of relatives and close friends had assembled. Miss Faria Nell Clayton, as maid of honor, wore yellow sweet peas with her smart aqua marine frock. Albert Markel was best man.

Forty guests were welcomed to a reception in the Clark home, where decorations were in keeping with a springtime theme. The bride cut the first slice of the elaborately decorated wedding cake, which was served with other dainties.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Daley donned a grey tailleur with matching accessories. Spending their honeymoon at Big Bear, the young couple have arrangements made to establish their home at 1844 East Fourth street in Long Beach. Annual Garden
Tour
Planned by Y. W.

Many inquiries have been addressed to the Register the past few weeks, regarding possible plans of the Y. W. for a spring garden tour. These questions were answered today by announcement made by Mrs. Fred Forgy, that such a tour is contemplated for Saturday afternoon, April 25, from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Forgy will make more detailed announcements regarding plans as the date approaches, but has revealed that the tour will give emphasis to smaller and more intimate home gardens of the city. An al fresco tea, always an anticipated feature, will be served at the Heber Fowler home, 615 West Santa Clara avenue.

White Shrine Official Goes to National Convention

Recent installation of Mrs. W. B. McConnell, 1218 Orange avenue, to the post of worthy high priestess of Damascus White Shrine, carried with it the pleasant honor of representing the order at the national convention to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, May 4 to 7.

Mrs. McConnell is preparing for her departure on April 30 in company with a group of two dozen priestesses from other shrines of the Southland. They will have a special car with many features planned for their trip, including a 24-hour stop at the Grand Canyon, a day in Albuquerque, and a day in Kansas City where a scenic drive and a dinner party will be entertainment.

After the Des Moines convention, Mrs. McConnell plans to continue eastward to New Haven, Conn., where as district manager of the Spencer Corset company, she will make her first visit to the factory. From Connecticut she will return to Little Rock, Ark., to visit a brother, P. E. Douglas, whom she has not seen for 22 years.

In Kansas City she will be entertained by Mr. McConnell's brother, F. F. McConnell, whom she has not seen since he left for the World war service in France. And Plays Bridge
In Plumb Home

Members of a little group of former high school friends who dine together and play bridge once each month, enjoyed the hospitality of the Hugh Plumb home on Main street, Tustin, Thursday night when Mrs. Plumb was hostess.

Unusual charm was given the dinner appointments, for Mrs. Plumb had substituted slim glasses for the crystal cruets in a quaint old silver caster, and filled them with flowers in soft colors.

In the after-dinner contract play Miss Marvel Baker and Miss Lena Thomas made first and second high scores and were appropriately rewarded.

Mrs. Plumb's guests were Mrs. Marshall Northcross, Mrs. Ethel Sink, Mrs. Hazel Turner, Mrs. Alice Peterson, Mrs. Robert Alexander, Miss Lena Thomas and Miss Marvel Baker.

Recent Bride Is New Pledge
Of Phi Omegas

If Mrs. LeRoy Levens anticipates many pleasant associations from membership in Phi Omega sorority, her anticipations are shared by those who long have belonged to the group, for they are happy to welcome this charming young bride of recent date, who was pledged at last night's meeting. Miss Ruth McBurney, 401 East Washington avenue, was hostess to the group.

She had made her home doubly attractive by using quantities of sweet peas in delicate tones of pink and orchid. Following pledging rites, the games of bridge and monopoly were introduced. Miss Wila Bradford, with high score in bridge, and Mrs. Lester Boyle, leading in monopoly, were awarded prizes.

Completing her hospitality, Miss McBurney arranged tables with sweet pea centerpieces to serve ice cream smothered with fresh strawberries, cookies and coffee. Little Maid Honored
At Birthday Party

The fact that little Miss Maxine Velarde celebrated her birthday at the Easter season, made the use of Easter flowers and decorations doubly appropriate for the pretty party given for the little maid this week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Velarde on West Second street.

Prominent among the games was an Easter egg hunt in which the prize was won by Master Albert Nieblas. Ice cream and birthday cake was served at the close of the afternoon.

APRIL BIRTHDAYS

Although the delightful dinner party at which Mrs. Charles E. Walker and Mrs. George R. Wells were hostesses Thursday night in the Wells home, 2826 Victoria drive, was planned originally as a surprise to their husbands, those two genial Kiwanians discovered the conspiracy afoot so that final arrangements were made with their full knowledge. In fact they fell in with plans to such an extent that much of the evening's merriment was directed to birthday anniversaries of their hostess wives rather than to the April dates observed. These were April 13 for Mr. Walker and April 21 for Mr. Wells. The co-hostesses included on their dinner list in addition to the two celebrants, Messrs. and Mesdames Orlyn Robertson, Theo. A. Winbiger, C. W. Harrison, Fred Newcomb, J. E. Gowen and E. T. Ma-teer.

COME TO CHURCH

The Church is the meeting place for God and His People

A SERMONETTE "COME TO CHURCH CAMPAIGN"

By A. C. BODE, Pastor
St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Orange

REV. A. C. BODE

Effective Personal Missionwork

"And He Brought Him to Jesus" (JOHN 1, 42)

This is the best answer to the ever important question: "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" The willingness to do the will of the Lord, or to serve Him, is manifested in a very noble and God-pleasing way, to bring a co-sinner to Jesus. Andrew brought his brother Simon, later known as Simon Peter, to JESUS. This was the first soul brought to Jesus by an apostle. What a noble and inspiring beginning of that long list of souls running into millions upon millions that have been brought to Jesus in the course of time. As soon as Andrew was convinced that Jesus was the promised Messiah, the Savior of mankind, he was led by an irresistible desire to lead others to Christ. He made the necessary sacrifices. He took time to convince his brother, to bring him there. He gladly forsook his calling and followed Jesus. It was his desire now to lead others to Jesus. He made that his occupation for the rest of his life.

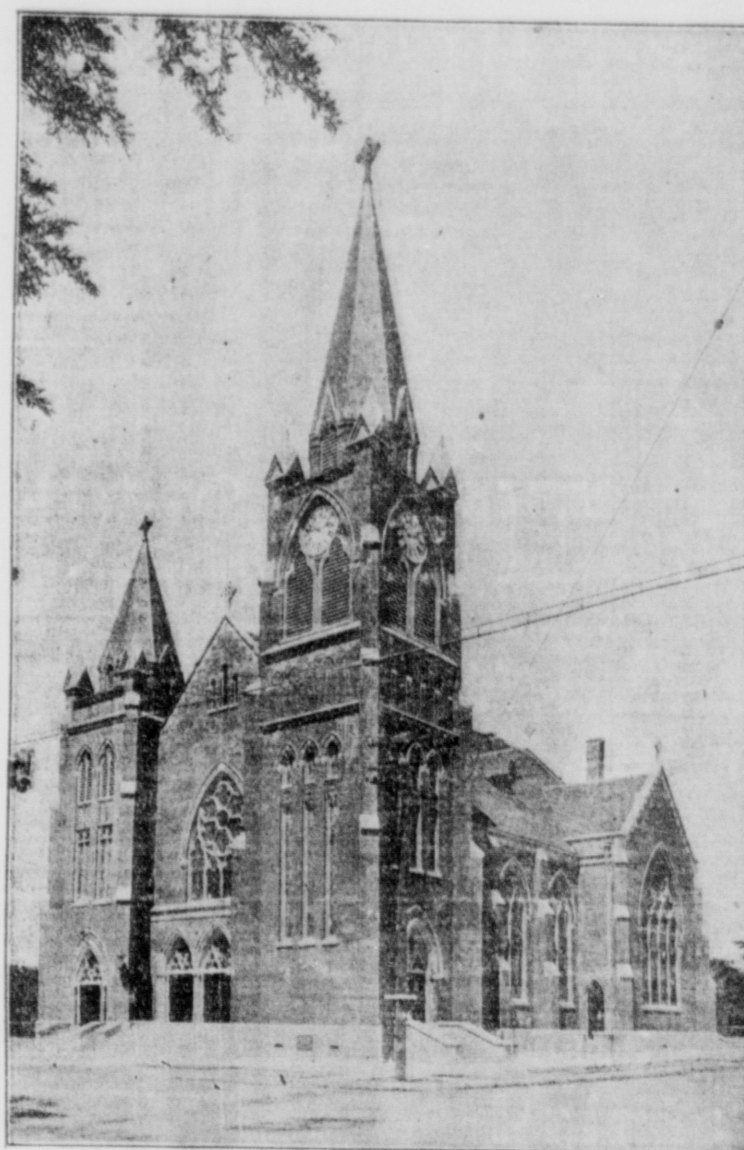

What a lesson for all Christians is found in the words: "To Jesus." To Jesus, the Son of God, the Son of man, the Messiah, who was promised to the world from the beginning of time, the Savior, in whom all the nations should be blessed, the Lamb of God, typified by the "pascal lamb", slaughtered on the eve before Easter in every home of a believing Jew, whose blood cleanseth from all sin. Jesus to whom the whole world should be directed. "To Jesus"—for that very purpose Christian congregations are organized and embraces all their activities.

Everyone in this wide world is in need of this Jesus at all times, in life as well as in death.

"He brought HIM to Jesus." The household of Andrew receives the first concern. His brother Simon does not know that Jesus is the Messiah. Immediately he seeks him, and finding him he cries out: "We have found the Messiah." This meant to say: The Jesus of Nazareth is none other than the Promised One. John and I have spent a full day with Him and we know that He is the Lord. It was the desire of this converted man that his whole family would find and serve the Lord.

No stream can rise above its head, no nation can rise above its homes. As goes the home, so shall go everything in the social order. The home is the fortress for the Church and for the State. There is perhaps a brother, or sister, or a relative who is not acquainted with the Savior. Say to him: "We have found the Messiah." Our Church is His Home. Come to hear His Word. He will open unto you the Scriptures, show you your sinfulness and the need of a Savior. He will dispel your doubts and give you a firm heart. "Come and see"; and if you do fail in your efforts to bring your people to Christ, you have done your duty. It is often easier to talk to a large group than to an individual, a friend, a relative, about Jesus.

"He brought him to Jesus". Andrew did not send others to his brother Simon, he did not depend upon others, but went himself and performed his duty. His personal work was to a certain extent responsible for the result. A real awakening is needed in regard to personal work for the salvation of souls, not the pastor alone but every Christian should do his duty. Jesus often emphasizes the need of personal work upon a single soul. His own example is a striking illustration of this method. He preached an entire sermon to one soul, to Nicodemus. The history of the church shows the importance of individual work. Souls are won for Christ not in a great number, but one by one. "Even if the work to be done in this or that way for the up-keep of the church may seem rather insignificant at times, this should not for a moment prevent any from doing it." "Whatsoever thine hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest." Eccl. 7, 10.

"He BROUGHT him to Jesus." Andrew brought Simon who became one of the great apostles of the Lord, the writer of two epistles, next to Paul the greatest person in the history of the early church. Peter's name is mentioned often. Simon's but a few times; but we find him bringing people to Christ. How did Simon succeed to bring Peter, the impulsive, to Christ? There is only one answer, i. e. he succeeded by the means of the word of God. He told his brother why he believed in Jesus as the promised Savior. He spoke to him about prophecy and fulfillment. He must have repeated the words of John: "Behold the Lamb of God". Remember these precious words and be mindful of your individual responsibility for the salvation of other souls.

TRUCK DRIVER FINED $15 FOR OVER LOADING

Upholding as constitutional, the state law which sets 17,000 pounds as the weight limit on truck axles, Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday fined Truck Driver C. E. Kretzinger of Orange Auto camp, Orange, $15, finding him guilty of driving a truck belonging to T. G. Oakley, 1311 Maple avenue, Santa Ana, on a rear axle load of 18,740 pounds.

In pleading not guilty, Kretzinger with assistance of William E. Swain, Jr., of Fullerton, argued that Section 704 of the California vehicle code, adopted more than six years ago, is unconstitutional because it is discriminatory, inasmuch as it holds that a truck registered after January 1, 1930, cannot carry more than 17,000 pounds across on any one axle, while trucks registered before that date may carry 18,000 pounds.

Kretzinger made a motion to arrest the $15 fine judgment on the grounds the complaint did not state cause of action, but Judge Morrison denied the motion. Kretzinger then said he would appeal the case to a higher court and asked for about two weeks' stay of execution of judgment, which Judge Morrison granted.

Kretzinger was arrested March 6, by State Highway Patrol Officer George Peterkin on First street in Santa Ana, after the truck was checked and, according to the questioned state law, found overloaded. It was pointed out, also, that even if the law were eventually declared unconstitutional, the load on the Kretzinger truck axle, 8,740 pounds, was 740 pounds over the limit allowed in the previous law.

HIGH TRIBUNAL WILL RULE ON LITTLE "AAA"

The state supreme court will be asked to rule upon constitutionality of the California "Little AAA" declared unconstitutional by superior Judge James L. Allen, of Orange county, it was announced today from two quarters. Leroy Lyon, of Placentia, Orange county supervisor and member of the growers' advisory committee, connected with administration of the AAA, announced that the matter would be immediately appealed to the supreme court.

Ivan McDaniel, counsel for the advisory committee, made a similar statement in Los Angeles, saying that either the Withers case, in Orange county, or the Forbes case, in Los Angeles, will be carried to the state's highest tribunal.

McDaniel said that proration under the California-Arizona marketing agreement is expected to continue, despite the Orange county decision yesterday.

He called attention to a recent decision in federal court, Los Angeles, holding the parallel federal antitrust constitutional.

District Attorney W. F. Menton was in San Francisco today, understood to be conferring with attorney General U. S. Webb on the appeal proposal.

COLLECTION OF TAXES EXCEEDS THAT OF 1935

County Tax Collector John C. Lamb paused today in the midst of his titanic job of collecting more than a million dollars in two days, to report that county tax collections this year are "healthier" than even last year, when they were rated good.

Having cleared $72,420.81 through his office yesterday, Lamb's books showed total collections this year to be $3,753,611.12, which was a better percentage of the total charge than had been collected at the corresponding period last year. The total charge this year is $4,750,299.29, which leaves $1,026,688.17 to be collected today and Monday, when unpaid taxes go delinquent.

Packed mail bags loaded with checks and money orders continued to pile up in the tax collector's office today, and it will be a fortnight, said Lamb, before the mail is checked and exact total collections known.

Several thousand taxpayers will filter through Lamb's office during the final two days, to make their payments in person, but the balance of the tax payments by mail will be chiefly the large payments of big taxpayers, who usually save the interest on their tax money by holding it up until the last day.

Facing the eleventh hour rush to tax windows, Lamb today reiterated his advice that taxpayers come prepared to present a legal description of their property, and have their tax payments in exact amounts, if possible, all to avoid delay. If payment is made by check, care should be taken to see that the check is properly executed and signed.

Such caution as to checks is especially applicable if payment is made by mail, as an error would not be discovered in time to be corrected before the property had gone delinquent.

More than 2500 taxpayers were given personal service in the tax office on the final day of payment last year, said Lamb, emphasizing the importance of saving delay in each individual case.

Of the total tax charge of $4,750,299.29 for the year, $2,800,955.65 was collected with the first installment, and $892,625.47 has been collected since, leaving the balance of $1,026,688.17 to be collected before closing time Monday.

HAIRCUT WORRIES SEER

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (UP)—A sentence of 18 months for assault did not worry "Professor" William Larkin, 32, nearly as much as the possibility of his long hair and 12-inch beard might be shaved off in prison. Larkin, a fortune teller, protested he feared he might lose his strength and intelligence if he lost his hair.

FOUR PERSONS ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Four persons were cut and bruised about 11:40 o'clock last night at Sixth and Broadway, as cars operated by Burt C. Grow, 16, 229 Mills drive, Anaheim, and H. Ross Lillard, 18, 525 South Broadway, Santa Ana, collided in the intersection. Grow was traveling north on Broadway and Lillard, east on Sixth, as the cars met, according to police reports. Lillard suffered face and neck cuts; Ethel Bell Christian, 16, Route 1, Box 194, Santa Ana, cuts about the face and a gash on her tongue; Emory Hubbard, 19, 628 West Center street, Anaheim, knee and hip bruises and cuts, and C. A. Dunham, 16, Route 4, Box 606, Santa Ana, left arm bruises. Those most painfully injured were given first aid at Orange county hospital.

No one was injured as a motorcycle operated by James P. Handfield, 2009 Kilson drive, and a truck operated by M. Pandel, 814 East Fifth, collided early this morning at Fifth and French. The vehicles were slightly damaged.

There are three state capitals on the Missouri river and 18 on the Mississippi and its tributaries.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 18.—(UP)—A break of more than 10 points in the stock market followed a 28 per cent drop in net income of that company unaffiliated with the market in the short season today. The market was a good deal better than it was a week ago, but the gain over the $6,447.41 of the corresponding quarter of 1935, however, mounted at a faster pace and the net result was a profit of $174,764, against $246,574 in 1935. Traders were far apart in their ideas on the stock in the early dealings. It failed to open for nearly a half hour and then at a loss of 5 1/2 points which later was extended.

Other corporations have had similar experiences. Including some automobile accessories companies. Ten of these units had aggregate income which was 18 per cent under that for the corresponding period of last year ago. Selling came into these issues and several including Briggs and Murray Corporation made new lows for the year, the former selling down more than 3 points at its low.

Steel companies which rely to a large extent on orders from the automobile companies were in similar plight, notably Ohio Steel which had a sharp reduction in income. The stock today broke to a new 1936 low. Other steel, however, moved over a relatively narrow range with U. S. Steel meeting support toward the close.

Weekly Citrus Review

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—(UP)—The past week saw a generally lower market on California navel oranges, with the volume of sales lower than the previous week when a good volume of business was reported. The good volume of a week ago was apparently pre-empted by the navel situation.

Receipts of Florida oranges in eastern markets were heavier than for the previous week. Florida oranges sold very heavily in far eastern markets this week at prices lower than during the previous week. This had a direct influence on the navel situation.

The Canadian tariff goes into effect again on May 1. Shipments to Canada have been increased this week to take care of the wants of the trade before the tariff becomes effective. Shipments will be sharply reduced as a result of the tariff.

Reports from Florida show not over 100 cars of oranges remaining for shipment after this week.

F.O.B. California quotations on fancy navel are unchanged from a week ago and are on the following basis: $2.50 to $2.75 on 100s; $2.25 to $2.50 on 150s; $2.10 to $2.35 on 160s-200s; $2.00 to $2.25 on 210s-240s.

The market on California lemons was about steady this week. A sharp improvement was noted in private sale markets but the auctions remained rather slow.

F.O.B. California quotations on extra choice lemons are on a basis of $4 to $4.25 per box on 300s; $4.25 to $4.50 on 350s; $4.75 to $5.00 on 400s and smaller.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next 30 days in all United States ports approximately 14 cars of foreign lemons. For the corresponding period in 1935 there were none; 1934, 11; 1933, 25; 1932, 26 and 1931, 55 cars.

Prorate for next week: Southern California navel-intrastate shipment 1000 cars-intrastate movement 12 cars.

PRISON SITE IN ORANGE COUNTY

It now appears that a prison site can be located in the southern part of Orange county, 8 miles southwest of Santa Ana, if Orange County citizens desire it.

There are many things to be considered as to whether it is desirable for the County or whether it is not. Some of the reasons why it is not desirable are, as previously stated in The Register, that it would take considerable property off the tax duplicate; that it would use considerable water for domestic purposes; that it might prevent some people from buying property and locating in the County; that the prisoners, when released, might be destitute and remain in the territory becoming charges on the community; the undesirable citizens might come to reside in the territory to be close to their associates in the prison.

In addition to these, some people believe that a prison in the community has a bad moral influence.

On the other hand, those who think the prison will be an asset to the community point out that there probably would be spent in the next couple of years approximately $6,000,000 in the building of this prison and probably half of this would be paid out in labor, which would amount to $3,000,000 in payrolls and give $3,000,000 worth of work in the County; that this would be distributed over a couple of years and mean a million and a half in payrolls per year; that there probably would be payrolls amounting to a quarter of a million dollars a year to the employees, of various kinds, living in the community; that this would mean good paying jobs for approximately 150 employees; that the class of citizens that would be added would be very desirable—probably would compare in citizenship with our police and sheriff's force; that the prison site would be for first offenders so would not be like a prison for murderers and hard criminals; the property would be beautified, landscaped and would greatly add to the beauty of the territory; it would look like some prosperous institution or a public park. It is pointed out that if the prison site were located in the County, and did not use Metropolitan water for domestic purposes, the state would, of necessity, be very much interested in securing an abundant supply of water for the County.

Some people who are realists contend that the prison being located in the county, instead of having a bad influence on the children growing up, would have a very good influence; they contend that it is much better to have children have object lessons in front of them than to be reared in a territory where they do not have a chance to see the results of not being good and obeying the law. Those who favor the location of the institution in the County point out that other counties having institutions of similar nature, such as San Bernardino County, has grown a growth since 1930 of 27,762, while Orange County, during the same time, has grown 10; they point out the insane asylum close to San Bernardino has not stopped its growth, as evidenced by the above figures.

Those favoring the project in Santa Ana point out that Santa Ana would be the city which would get the most benefit from the jobs created by the building and maintaining of the prison farm; they contend that the homes built for employees of the prison farm would more than make up the loss in the tax duplicate counted for by the real estate going off the tax duplicate.

With the above explanation, it really simmers down to whether or not it would prevent new people from locating in the County. This, of course, is not a provable matter but only a question of judgment. It is argued that the realists and common sense people would, in no way, be affected by the building of an institution of this kind in the location planned.

While the Register at first thought, without having enough data on which to form conclusions, stated that it believed the influence would be negative, it now believes the location of the prison site would be good for the County, taken as a whole. While the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce have taken a definite stand against it, it is suggested that before closing the matter and using their influence against the locating of the site here, they get additional information as to the amount of actual payrolls that will result and take a vote of all the members rather than letting it be decided by the Directors. If it was of enough importance to take a vote of the membership to determine whether the local chamber should join the United States chamber, this, it would seem, is of much more importance than the decision of whether the local chamber should belong to the United States Chamber. The more data we can have on the subject, of course, the more likely we are to make an intelligent decision on the matter.

The Register believes the more the subject is studied, the more the people will be inclined to see that the advantages much more than counter-balance the disadvantages. Anything which will add to honest employment and give good jobs to honorable citizens in the County, as this would, is nothing to be turned down without very careful consideration.

"WILL-O'-THE-WISP"

The Register, on Wednesday, in discussing President Roosevelt's address at Baltimore to the Young Men's Democratic Club, contended that the President was violating an axiom in his suggestion as to the hours people could work.

The same thought was so well expressed by Walter Lippmann, in a copyrighted article in the New York Tribune, under the heading "Will-O'-The-Wisp," that we are herewith reproducing it:

"To youth which comes to us wanting to know what we propose to do about the lack of jobs, the President has said at Baltimore that his answer is to have fewer workers working less. He would like no one to work before he is 18 or after he is 65 and he would like everyone to work less between those ages. Thus he would solve the problem of unemployment by permitting fewer persons to be employed. He would increase the standard of life by devoting less effort to the production of wealth. He would attack the problem of poverty by doing less work.

"Surely there is here a very great confusion of mind. Mr. Roosevelt has two objectives. One is to provide more leisure. The other is to provide more wealth. Both are highly desirable. So he has persuaded himself that if he provides more leisure, he will provide more wealth. This, in its most perfect form, is wishful thinking. Desiring ardently that the people should work less and receive more, he has come to think that if they work less they will receive more.

"This may be, as the President remarked, a time when many of yesterday's certainties are questioned. But one of the certainties that cannot be questioned in this age or in any other is that leisure has to be paid for out of productive labor. No age can be so unsettled as to make it no longer true that if the people produce less wealth they will have less wealth, that they cannot eat more cake by making less cake. In fact, it is this very belief held not only by the President, but by protectionists, monopolists, trade unionists, planners, price stabilizers, price fixers that has done more than any other thing to unsettle the age.

"The underlying idea in the President's mind is that the older people and the younger ones are not adding to the wealth of the country, but are occupying jobs that ought to be given to others. But what he has not noticed is that if the older people and the younger are to be supported in leisure the others will have to provide their support. For he suggests that even those who are allowed to work shall work less, though they must support not only themselves but a greatly increased dependent population.

"If this is the way to raise the American standard of life why could it not be raised much higher still if no one went to work until he was 21, if no one worked after he was 50 and if no one worked more than thirty hours a week? Why is this any more absurd than Mr. Roosevelt's doctrine? He says that 'if it works, do it some more.' If working less is the cure for unemployment then total unemployment ought to produce the abundant life.

"The practical application of the doctrine is as bewildering as the theory. Mr. Roosevelt proposes to keep boys and girls in school until they are 18. This means that the States must provide them with the schoolhouses and the teachers and that their families or their communities must provide the income to support them. How can this conceivably be done except by a great increase in the production of wealth? Yet the President wishes those who are allowed to work at the production of wealth to work less while they are being taxed more to provide these great new opportunities.

"It is his doctrine. It is a very real case of offering the people false promises, of telling them to expect great benefits without telling them the price they would have to pay. The reform which the President proposes is desirable. But no man ought to propose it without making it very clear to the people that if they wish to keep everyone in school until 18 and to retire everyone at 65, the rest of the people must work very much harder and very much more efficiently.

"The President of the United States should not lead his people to think that they can get something for nothing. He should tell them the simple truth that the price of leisure is more work for somebody or a lower standard of life for everybody. He should tell them that the price of more education is the production of more wealth. To promise them leisure, a higher standard of life and vastly greater educational opportunities, all of these things as a result of less work, is not only to defy common sense, but to delude the people."

In judging any individual, we not only have to take into consideration the good things he does but the impractical things he does or advocates which counter-balance and nullify his accomplishments.

I can only urge you to prefer friendship to all human possessions; for there is nothing so suited to our nature, so well adapted to prosperity or adversity.

Spring Clean-Up

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 18. — If Illinois were a radically minded state or if it had been sending to Congress a Republican of the North or La Follette type instead of being regarded for generations as a stronghold of Republican conservatism, the primary election this week would not be the occasion for more than passing comment.

But the Illinois results, while favorable to the Knox candidacy, revealed in downstate Illinois a strong Borah trend. This by itself would not be indicative of anything more than the usual conservative and radical split in the Republican party in western states. The riddle of the Illinois primary, however, is that what was in the minds of those who participated in the gubernatorial primary but who refrained from voting in the Borah-Knox contest.

Thus, the combined Borah and Knox vote was about 729,000 with most of the districts accounted for by Friday. This means that nearly 300,000 Republicans were sufficiently interested in the gubernatorial race but did not take enough interest to choose as between Knox and Borah.

Conversely, in the Democratic primary, Mr. Roosevelt, who was unopposed, got about 1,292,000 votes, whereas the Democratic gubernatorial race attracted 1,348,000 votes.

Seemingly, Mr. Roosevelt received 500,000 votes more than the Knox-Borah totals. This need not be construed as meaning that no Republican other than Messrs. Borah or Knox would have received the full Republican vote. It could be argued that more than 300,000 Republican voters did not care for either the Borah or Knox candidacy, but did care for Governor Landrum or Senator Vandenberg or some other Republican.

The larger significance, of course, is that the Democratic gubernatorial candidates had a larger vote than the Republicans, though the latter really had no such bitter contest as was staged by the Democratic primary.

Mr. Roosevelt's complimentary vote may have been related to the fact that the voter ordinarily in a party primary does have to consider all the names on the ballot, irrespective of whether there is a contest. The fact that Mr. Roosevelt did poll not many votes less than the two gubernatorial candidates must mean that he is stronger than the state ticket. For if the result of the Bundesen-Horner contest for governor is to drive away some Democratic votes from Governor Horner, the fact remains that partisans of both candidates voted almost unanimously for Mr. Roosevelt.

In other words, the Roosevelt strength in Illinois — for many years a staunch Republican state — is phenomenal for a primary showing. The Republican point of view, however, is that when a presidential nominee is chosen there will be much more concentrated opposition to the Roosevelt policies than has been manifested thus far. It cannot be overlooked, however, that both Senator Borah and Colonel Knox have been campaigning against the New Deal and it would seem logical that the effect of their argument would be to draw converts to their side.

The failure of the combined Knox-Borah effort to poll a bigger vote may have some explanation in the way the Illinois vote was handled by the big organizations in Cook county, but until some explanation of a convincing character is offered, the Illinois primary would seem to indicate that neither Colonel Knox nor Senator Vandenberg can learn a lesson from the negative campaigns that have been waged thus far on national issues. Certainly Republican strategy will have to undergo considerable revision if the Illinois primaries are to be taken as the trend in a state normally counted as overwhelmingly Republican both for governor and for the presidency.

I was watching ma sewing on her sewing machine and she said, I want you to run around to the stores for me, Benny.

When, ma, now? I said, and she said, Do you happen to know of any time better than the present?

Yes mam, I said, and she said, Then keep the information to yourself. I want a package of bicarbonated soda from the drugstore, a half a dozen lemons from the grocery store, and a spool of white darning cotton from the dry goods store. Now I'll run over the list again, bicarbonated soda, half a dozen lemons and a spool of white darning cotton. Now what are you going after? ma said.

Thread, lemons and baking powder, I said, and ma said, Not baking powder, bicarbonated soda, and not thread, darning cotton.

That's what I meant, I said, and ma said, It's not what you meant, it's what you say that has any particular value in a case of this kind. Yes mam, bicarbonated soda, lemons and darning cotton, I said, and ma said, Be more specific, how much of each?

A dozen lemons, a spool of darning cotton and a package of what's its name, I said, and ma said, Well, what's its name? Mam? Not baking powder, anyways, I said, and ma said, Bicarbonated soda, bicarbonated soda, and not a dozen lemons, a half dozen, and what color darning cotton?

What color do you want? I said, and ma said, I want the color I told you to get, white, white. So now remember, I wrote darning cotton, and a dozen, I mean a half dozen and not a dozen lemons, and not what's its name but baking powder, or rather bicarbonated powder, I mean soda. O dear, I think I better write it out, she said.

G. ma, you better or you'll be getting it all mixed up the way you're sounding, I said, and she said, No wonder, you're enough to complicate a saint, now take this list and hurry up before I have to add headache powders to it, she said.

Meaning me.

25 Years Ago Today

APRIL 18, 1911

Be-wildered, grinning and boastful as ever, Rosario Sainz is again in Orange county jail, landed there at noon today by Sheriff C. E. Ruddock. Sainz is charged with the murder of Jose Machado over a year ago, and escaped last October by overpowering Sheriff Lacy and locking him in. Since that time he has been reported in various Mexican points but was secured in Ensenada, where officers were only to glad to relinquish him to the Orange county sheriff as an American citizen.

A large apricot crop for this year is now practically assured. The warm weather of the past two weeks has produced a rapid growth of the fruit, putting it beyond danger from weather changes such as heavy fog, which rots the buds, or rains which knock them from the stems.

TALEBEARING

"And never, never, tell tales. It is unmanly, unsportsmanlike. If you can't get along without telling tales you're not much of a boy. Remember that."

"But father—"

"There are no 'buts,' I tell you. Never tell tales. Even if you have to suffer for it. Suffer and keep still. Everybody hates a talebearer."

John Henry pondered these words and felt somehow that they lacked something. Fair play seemed to mean one thing to one boy and the opposite to the other. There was Red, who copied freely from another's papers and promptly denied it on the few occasions when the similarity of their papers made the teacher suspicious. "Why should I copy?" said he blandly. "It is not me that needs to copy." There was just enough accent on the Me to make the teacher look quickly at John Henry, and he, being sensitive and indignant into the bargain, blushed crimson and could scarcely hold up his head.

"See that this does not happen again. That's all. Next time I will look into the matter very closely and deal with the culprit as dishonesty should be dealt with. I will not tolerate cheating." The teacher's voice had been stern and while he looked at Red as he spoke he looked longer at John Henry.

"He thinks I copied. And that skates made him think so. I'd like to punch the head off him, that's what I'd like to do." But that was not so easy for Red was bigger and heavier and much more apt with his fists than John Henry, having had more occasion.

Soon after father had delivered his ultimatum in response to his son's question as to the desirability of telling if one was being put in the wrong, there was a test in his accordingly. Next day Mr. Turley, John Henry was good in his story and Red knew it and acted ner's face was stern as he faced the class. "Again I have found indications of communication during test. Two marks will not be read. I would like to see John Henry and William immediately after class. All eyes turned toward the two accused of cheating. John Henry looked guilty. Red's eyes opened wide with astonishment. He looked injured, but not guilty.

"I find that parts of three questions are similar, and that the complete answers to numbers five and nine are word for word alike. Who copied?"

"I didn't, I know," said Red blithely. John Henry grew redder in the face and fumbled in his pockets.

"It is not like you, John Henry. What have you to say?"

"Nothing, sir."

"Nothing? No defense? Then all I can do is mark you failure. Are you certain you have nothing to tell me?"

"Certain, sir."

Father looked at the report card, asked why in loud tones. "Because Red copied from me and I could not tell on him and he said he did not copy, and Mr. Turner gave me failure."

"And you were fool enough to stand for it? I'll see Turner in the morning. Don't you know any better than to let anybody brand you a cheat? Haven't you a tongue in your head?"

Telling tales is bad, unless there is a sound reason. Then it is good. Nobody should have the protection of silence when he has broken the law. Teach children just that, and teach them to speak up and defend the right, let who may be wounded by it.

WINDS O' APRIL
When comes that time that, weary with life's problems
Somehow I win to heaven's golden bars,
And with my robes and in my crown of glory
Shall go adventuring among mysterious stars.

If there should come perchance a random sea breeze,
Will even heaven have for me a lack?
I'll grasp, I think, my fluttering shreds of courage,
'Tis April, I shall breathe, 'Let's go back!'

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE

One of our pet beliefs which we put into effect as often as possible at the Little Gray House, is that there is value in a certain amount of judiciously wasted time. This applies to reading as well as to other things. Even though the Tall Sons feel that their mother's brow doesn't attain any appreciable altitude, it is very nice after years of reading for educational value, to ramble light-heartedly through books that need not be studied and remembered.

And occasionally we stumble on to a treasure. Would you like to go wandering rather aimlessly over rural England? Visit Somerset and see the tower of Glastonbury "riding like an island?" Follow the hot roads of Devon from blazing day into the cool of forest twilight? Visit the great moor spaces, vibrant with purple heather, the long uplands "white with slow sheep," the soft line of Exmoor, and St. Ives "where England began?"

Then read "Mr. Finchley's Holiday" by Victor Canning. Swing into step with the mild little solicitor's clerk of London as he pursues his quietly adventurous way amidst exciting, merry, dangerous and romantic happenings that could occur nowhere but in England. Smile at the sly humor of his new gray flannels which were "ready-made but fitted everywhere except where it didn't really matter," of Woodall's incomparable butler describing a heart affair at "Church et la fam as the French say, although there was too little church and a great deal of fam."

And you will learn the mid-summer charm of England's countryside almost as intimately as though you actually trod her hills, her winding lanes and her upland ways.

One of the recent issues of Los Angeles "Saturday Night" had in its columns the following poem by a Santa Ana writer that we are glad to share with readers of the Quilt:
